COURT HOLDS INJUNCTION PERMANENT OVER RAIL STRIKERS

Shopmen Cannot Interfere With Interstate Commerce in Any Way

CHICAGO, July 12.—The temporary injunction obtained October 5, last, by Attorney General Daugherty restraining striking railway shopmen from interfering with interstate commerce was made permanent in a decision handed down at today by United States District Judge Wilkerson, sitting in Chicago.

The government was represented in arguments before the court prior to the decision and in the courtroom today by Jacob M. Dickerson and Orville J. Taylor, both of Chicago, special assistants to the attorney general.

In the language of the temporary injunction obtained almost a year ago, shop craft employes are restrained from the following:

One—In any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing said railroad companies (fifty plaintiffs) in the operation of their respective railroads and systems of transportation or the performance of their public duties and obligations in the transportation of passengers and property in interstate commerce and the carriage of mails, and from in any manner interfering with, hindering or obstructing the officers, agents, servants or employes of said railway companies, or any of them and from preventing or attempting to prevent any person or persons from freely entering into or continuing in the employment of said railway companies.

Must Not Interfere

Two—In any manner conspiring, combining, confederating, agreeing and arranging with each other or with any person or persons, organizations or associations to injure or to interfere with or hinder said railway companies.

Three—Loitering or being unnecessarily in the vicinity of the points and places of ingress or egress of the employes of said railway companies—or aiding, directing or encouraging any person or persons, organizations or association to do any of the acts heretofore described.

Four—Including or attempting to induce with intent to further said conspiracy by the use of threats, violent or abusive language, opprobrious epithets, physical violence or threats thereof of any person or persons to abandon the employment of said railway comanies.

Bar on Picketing

Five—Engaging, directing or procuring others to engage in the practice commonly known as picketing.

Six—Congregating or maintaining any pickets.

Seven—Doing or causing bodily harm to any of the employes of said railway companies.

Eight—Directly or indirectly hindering operation of trains.

Nine—In any manner directing any person to abandon employment of said railway companies.

Lad Falls Five Stories, Arises, Then Apologizes

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Falling five stories from his room in the Stillwell hotel in South Grand avenue to the roof of the hotel garage early today, Windsor Putnam, 19, San Francisco college student, got to his feet again, apologized to the man in charge of the garage for making his unexpected call, made his way from the roof and disappeared. The garage man, who had climbed to the roof upon hearing the noise caused by Putnam's fall, was not satisfied with the perfectly worded apology of the youth and notified central police station.

Shortly after the garage man's call to the police, Putnam, son of a well-known realtor living at 3191 Pacific avenue, San Francisco, was found wandering near Ninth and Olive streets, a block from the hotel. Examination by police doctors proved the lad's jaws had been broken and that he possibly suffered a fracture of the skull.

Putnam is said to have arrived here three days ago from San Francisco. Last night he is believed to have been taken ill and in a wild fit of nausea made his way to the window of his hotel room, leaned out and accidentally fell. Evidence shows that in the fall Putnam's chin struck a water vent pipe.

FIRE BUGS FACE PROMPT ARREST

Cordon of Police Thrown Around Fruit Packing Plants at Fullerton

FULLERTON, Calif., July 12.—After a cordon of officers had been thrown about the imperriled areas all night, arrests were expected to be made today of suspected I. W. W.'s, who are believed to have attempted to burn the Placentia Orange Growers' association packing plant, the American fruit district plants, and the Black Diamond Walnut plants here, and started a small fire beneath a bean warehouse on the outskirts of Fullerton.

The first fire, doing approximately $2,000 damage, began in the American fruit district plant, and was followed ten minutes later by flames in the Black Diamond Walnut plant. A man was said to have been seen running from this plant shortly after the fire broke out.

Fifteen minutes later, fire was discovered under the bean warehouse. A window was also found to have been forced in the building and waste from a railroad engine thrown in, indicating, the police say, incendiarism.

Manitoba Turns Down Wine, Beer, at Meals

WINNIPEG, July 12.—Manitoba voters today were on record as wanting their liquor but not wanting the sale of light wines and beer with meals in hotels legalized. Three weeks ago they voted overwhelmingly in favor of government sale of intoxicating liquors. Yesterday they crushed, by a vote of 2 to 1 the bill, sponsored by hotel men, legalizing sale of wine and beer by the gallon.

AERONAUT'S FUNERAL

CEDAR RAPIDS, July 12.—The funeral of Lieut. Louis J. Roth, air cavalier, who lost his life in the American elimination balloon race, will be held here Friday at 2 p. m. in the First Christian church, of which his parents are members.

PRICE DROP HITS MANY PRODUCERS IN NATION

Millions of Dollars Loss in Past Two Weeks, Is Officials' Estimate

By DOUGLAS G. TINSLEY
For International News Service

CHICAGO, July 12.—"Dollar wheat means ruin for thousands of farmers all over the United States."

In these words O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Federation Bureau, today epitomized the situation facing the great army of approximately three million wheat farmers in the grain belts, following a drop of ten cents a bushel on wheat in the past two weeks.

DOUGLAS G. TINSLEY

"Continuance of wheat at the dollar-a-bushel mark means nothing short of bankruptcy for the thousands of farmers who are dependent on the price they get for their wheat for a livelihood," said Mr. Bradfute. "Unless there is an immediate upward turn of the market, for which, at present, I can see no hope, there will be nothing for the farmers to do except throw up their hands and quit, or put themselves heavily in debt in order to survive until better prices prevail.

"Dollar wheat in Chicago means that the farmer is unable to purchase the necessaries for himself and his family.

Purchasing Power

"The farmer's purchasing power is based on the price his wheat brings. When it is low, he has to deliver more wheat to secure a dollar's worth of merchandise. The more wheat he has to deliver for each dollar's worth, the quicker his supply is exhausted, and the less he gets for his money."

Mr. Bradfute declared that the loss to the farmer, based on a crop of 800,000,000 bushels, has been approximately $80,000,000 during the past two weeks, when wheat dropped from $1.10 a bushel to its present level of $1.

The immediate effect of this, he said, will be to benefit the consumer slightly for the time being by causing cheaper flour and its products, but the ultimate effect will be to cause the consumer to pay higher prices when thousands of farmers are forced to throw up their hands and quit producing on account of inability to get enough for their product to sustain themselves.

Too Much Production

"Dollar wheat means simply that the farmer will be unable to meet his obligations or do much of anything else. The ultimate effect of this on everybody is not hard to see.

"Every section of the United States will be affected either directly or indirectly. The only salvation is that wheat will shortly take an upward turn. Frankly, I am unable at present to see much hope for this. The farmer has over-produced."

Broken Neck Knits Again, Say Doctors

REDDING, Calif., July 12.—A month ago, W. W. Hollister, a Gas Point farmer, broke his neck in a runaway accident. His neck was placed in a plaster cast and today his physicians announced the shattered vertebrae had knitted together and his recovery was assured, as far as the broken neck is concerned.

U. S. Wheat Stocks Are 36,458,000 Bushels

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The department of agriculture estimated today, on the basis of reports from its correspondents and agents, that the stocks of wheat in country mills and elevators on July 1 totaled 36,458,000 bushels, compared with a preliminary July estimate of 28,756,000 bushels.

Two Bandits In Postal Robbery Get $2000 Cash

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Two Mexican bandits, their faces partly covered with masks, walked into the Arcade postoffice at Third and Central Sts., and, at the point of revolvers, held up and forced two clerks at the wholesale stamp window to hand over a large sum of money realized from yesterday's sales and escaped. The bandits, according to postoffice inspectors, are known to have secured $2000 in cash and possibly a larger sum.

Miss Fanny Schofield, one of the clerks whom the bandits held up, with E. A. Baerch, is believed to have made the holdup less serious by making her way from the window and letting out a scream when at a safe distance from the robbers. Pursuit was given the holdup men but they were not to be seen.

PRESIDENT SEES NOTED GLACIERS

Skagway-Seward Journey Lies Along 400 Miles of Ice Bound Coast

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News Service

ABOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON WITH PRESIDENT HARDING IN ALASKA, July 12 (via radio).—The magnificent Alaskan glaciers unfolded before President Harding today as the Henderson bore almost due westward toward Seward, where starts the government railway.

The presidential party was behind schedule today because of the visit to Skagway. The Henderson came out of the icy straits during the night and this morning was off Muir glacier, one of the most picturesque and splendid of Alaska's many glaciers.

The course of the transport today lay alongside 400 miles of coast line dotted with glaciers and with scarcely a town or a habitation of any sort to break the monotony of the towering icy peaks that stretched as far away as the eye could see.

Heretofore the Henderson's sailing has been with land on each side, like river boating, but today she struck into the open sea with consequently rougher passage.

WIN VERDICT IN HEARING OVER MOVIE DISPUTE

Court's Decision Expected to Bring Big Payment to Local Investors

Mr. and Mrs. Harry James of 1560 East Wilson avenue have just received a copy of a court judgment giving them a victory which may be worth a number of thousands of dollars to them and in which many Glendale residents are personally interested. The case involves the proceeds from the sale of a feature film produced under the name of "The Trumpet Call" but being sold under the title "When Right Meets Might."

Mr. and Mrs. James became interested in the production of this picture in February 1922. They were told that if they raised $5,000 towards its expenses they could have a fourth interest in its profits. After devoting considerable time to the promotion, Mr. James raised approximately $1800 in subscriptions ranging from $5 to $100. Many of these were taken by Glendale residents. They then put in $1200 of their own making a total investment through their efforts of $3,000.

When they offered to invest the additional $2,000 required under their contract, they were assured that this would be unnecessary but that they would be given the stipulated fourth interest anyhow.

Produced at Hollywood

Charles J. Hall, promoter of the film, produced the picture under the firm name of Charles J. Hall & Sons at the Hollywood Studio. A contract provided that Mr. James should be paid $100 a week for his services and Mrs. James $75. Although John B. O'Brien, the director, found their services perfectly satisfactory, according to Mr. James, an excuse was found by Mr. Hall to discharge them on a trivial pretext.

After the picture had been produced, it was seen by Mr. Hall that its profits would exceed those anticipated, according to Mr. James. He therefore made an effort to have the contract between them abrogated and offered Mr. James the return of his investment. This was refused.

When the case was taken to court, Mr. Hall immediately returned most of the subscriptions raised by Mr. James with ten per cent interest. He also brought STANLEY BALDWIN, British premier, who in House of Commons today scored France for its action in the Ruhr. He declared there was no justification for the French course—that it would be difficult to justify it even in time of war. Many Americans heard the speech.

France Is Not Worried Over Break With England

PARIS, July 12.—"I am confident. I am not worried."

That was Premier Poincare's message to the French senate as the break with England on reparations loomed today to threaten the peace of Europe.

"France has need of England," said Poincare, "but England needs France just as much.

"If England breaks away from us she will be back at our side two days later."

France awaited Premier Baldwin's statement in the British House of Commons calmly. In official circles there was assurance that the French position is advantageous.

The French viewpoint is something like this:

France holds the Ruhr and the Rhineland is strategically strong. England holds nothing and is therefore weak.

If England undertakes a separate agreement with Germany what will it profit her? Obviously nothing, because the army holds Germany's most productive properties.

The French apparently also believe Premier Baldwin will be overthrown or his position greatly weakened if his policy results in a break with France.

PREMIER OF BRITAIN IN COMMONS ASKS AID ON RUHR TROUBLE

Insists Germany Must Pay But Says Wrong Way Is Being Taken

Assails France

LONDON, July 12.—Premier Stanley Baldwin, in his statement of the British reparations policy in the House of Commons this afternoon, contrary to general expectations, bitterly assailed France, whose course, he charged, "endangered the peace of the world."

"There is no justification for the French course," he said. "It would be difficult to justify even in time of war."

As a result of that course, the premier inferred, Germany "appears to be rapidly moving towards economic chaos and recovery of her credit and her consequent ability to pay her debts appears to be receding into the dim distance."

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service

LONDON, July 12.—Great Britain will draft a reply to the latest German note on reparations, and submit it to the allied powers for their approval, Premier Stanley Baldwin announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

"We hope the allies will join with us," the premier said. "If they do not, England will be forced to act independently."

"France's course is endangering the peace of the world," Baldwin said. "It cannot be made too clear," he added, "in the interests alike of those powers who have to profit from exploiting Germany, that the differences between them rest on the sole ground of divergencies as to the means of reaching the ends upon which all are agreed."

England has never wavered, Baldwin said, in her determination that Germany should pay.

"We are as determined as any of our allies that Germany should make reparations for damages of the great war to her fullest capacity.

"But," he said, "we are convinced that measures which will result in the ruin of Germany will be fatal to England, her allies and the whole of Europe."

Americans in House

Every seat in the House of Commons was reserved for Premier Stanley Baldwin's statement on reparations.

Many Americans were in the visitors' gallery, among them Senator Reed Smoot of Utah.

"Hope of the recovery of her credit and the consequent ability to pay her debts is receding into the dim distance.

"There is no justification for the French course," Premier Baldwin declared. "It would be difficult to justify it even in time of war."

Opinion throughout the world the premier said, has become charged with alarm.

Rests on Three Points

"Recovery of the world's peace has been at stake in the conversations between England and her allies," he said.

"They have not yet led to any positive results."

"Security for the world," Bald-

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The balance of foreign trade during the fiscal year which ended June 30 was in favor of the United States, the department of commerce announced today. Exports for the year totaled $3,965,967,460, while imports aggregated only $3,789,002,114.

SHARP ADVANCE IN PRICE OF GERMAN MARKS

NEW YORK, July 12.—German marks had a sharp advance on the foreign exchange market today, selling at 190,480 to the dollar, which was 31,742 less than could be obtained for a dollar yesterday. The advance, amounting to about 15 per cent, followed publication of the reparations address by Premier Baldwin in London.

GOLD DISCOVERY IN TRINITY COUNTY

REDDING, July 12.—Mining excitement was stirring in Trinity county today on account of Charles J. Heath pounding out $1000 in gold from fifty pounds of quartz found close to the surface in a new prospect located by him a few weeks ago on the Trinity river near Minersville. It is estimated the quartz goes $50,000 to the ton. It was apparently a pocket he found, although there is plenty of first class ore in the ledge but not so rich.

GUARDS TO FOIL I. W. W. OUTBREAK

Threat of Reprisal Against Shipping Brings More Police to Harbor

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Guards patrolled Los Angeles harbor district today to prevent members of the I. W. W., incensed over the conviction of the 27 "reds" yesterday, from attempting to force another longshoremen's strike.

Additional guards were rushed to the waterfront after the radicals had received sentences ranging from 1 to 14 years. There had been rumors that reprisals would be attempted by way of crippling shipping, and efforts would be made to induce workers to desert ships.

The police received orders to dispel all crowds, and arrested five persons accused of trying to foment disorder. The five were attending a meeting of alleged I. W. W.'s on Liberty hill when taken into custody.

A five-day sympathetic strike of longshoremen, to protest against the conviction of the 27 men, was said to have been voted at the meeting. The walkout was to go into effect today.

Ship owners and the police said today that they expected few, if any, would respond to the alleged strike call.

ARRAIGN DOCTOR AS DOPE SELLER

Sensation Promised in Trial Of Peddling Narcotics to Film Colony

LOS ANGELES, July 12.—Declared by narcotic agents to be the head of a drug ring which has furnished Hollywood motion picture circles with narcotics for months, Dr. James T. Fisher, prominent Los Angeles physician and well known throughout the state, was to be arraigned before United States Commissioner Long today.

At the same time, the government agents hinted, a scandal, which will scare the film colony, was scheduled to break, as a "blue book," containing the names and addresses of many motion picture stars as well as civilians, was taken from the doctor's offices. The doctor is specifically accused by Agent De Spain of having sold one bundle of morphine without first having obtained a written order from the commissioner of internal revenue.

Dr. Fisher served as a major in the medical corps, during the late war, was head of the county lunacy commission, and took a prominent part in the production of a motion picture recently dealing with the ravages of the drug evil. He is 60 years old.

L. A. Police Don't Know Glendale Is Unannexed

Some Los Angeles officials, apparently, do not know that Glendale has so far resisted the blandishments of the Southland's metropolis and has refused to be annexed.

Witness the appearance of a big, strapping police officer at the City Hall this morning, who told Desk Sergeant Cole that he had come to report for duty in Glendale. Cole ran his eye appraisingly over the big fellow and saw that he looked like fine police timber, but the voice of official caution prompted him to ask who sent the visitor to the Glendale police department.

"Why," said the visitor, in a confident tone, "I have been working in the Wilshire division of Los Angeles and they told me I was going to be transferred somewhere. They gave me my choice of going to Eagle Rock or to Glendale, and as I used to live here twenty-five years ago, when I was a boy, I thought I would like to come back to the old town, especially as I've heard it is such a live, growing place."

"Fine," said Cole. "But what in Hades made any Wilshire officer think he could transfer his men to Glendale?"

"Why, ain't Glendale a part of Los Angeles?" inquired the transferee.

"Not on your life," said Cole. "And that ain't all, neither. When you get back to Wilshire you can tell the lad that sent you over here that Glendale ain't going to be part of Los Angeles."

And the crestfallen cop, rudely awakened from his dream of returning to the scenes of his boyhood, sadly wended his way back to Wilshire to explain that Los Angeles transfers don't cut any ice with the Glendale police department.

Home Wedding

Miss Evelyn Williams became the bride of Fred Wilson Wednesday night, July 11, 1923, at a ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's grandfather, Nathaniel McClain, 1321 East Colorado street. Rev. Grisby Nelson Hobson, of Merced, a retired Baptist minister, was the officiant, reading the marriage service at 7:30 o'clock before a company of seventy-five relatives and friends.

The McClain home was most beautifully and artistically arranged for the wedding, arrangements of spring blossoms decorating the various rooms. Long strands of ivy and white flowers covered the archway where the bridal party stood for the ceremany.

Just at the hour set for the service, Miss Jewell McLaughlin san "At Dawning," by Cadman.

For the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. John Starr played the "Lohengrin" wedding march.

Mrs. Alian McKenzie was matron of honor. She wore a green taffeta frock and carried an arm bouquet of orchid sweet peas.

Miss Jane Snyder was bridesmaid, and wore apricot taffeta and also carried orchid sweet peas.

Miss Williams, most becomingly gowned, entered the room with her grandfather, Nathaniel McClain. She wore a bridal gown of white canton crepe simply made and trimmed with silk lace. A bandeau of orange blossoms held her veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and fern.

Mr. Wilson was attended by his brother, William Wilson.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and after congratulations were extended the bride and groom, refreshments were served.

Miss Dorothy Hague, Miss Leona McClain, Mrs. A. Holcomb, Mrs. Bentley and Mrs. Arville Williams served.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left late last night on a two week's trip and upon their return they will reside at 1321 East Colorado street, until their new home which they are building in North Glendale is completed.

Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Williams and has been a resident of Glendale most of her life. She is a graduate of the local high school, graduating with the class of 1920. Mr. Wilson is the son of Mrs. C. L. Wilson of 223 North Kenwood street, and has been a resident of Glendale for the past ten years. He graduated from the local high school with the class of 1918, and since that time has been engaged in the garage business here.

Farewell Luncheon

Mrs. Louis J. Libert of 207 West Magnolia avenue, who is to leave July 18 for a two months' visit with her mother, Mrs. John Rondou in Green Bay, Wis., was honoree at a surprise farewell luncheon given yesterday by her sister-in-law, Mrs. John L. Rondou of 212 West Laurel street.

Shades of yellow and orange combined in the artistic summer color scheme used by Mrs. Rondou in the luncheon table appointments. Yellow Japanese lilies and nasturtiums in harmonizing shades were the flowers used on the table, while place cards bearing hand painted sketches of yellow tulips marked the places.

A clever feature of the table decoration was a tiny train, "The Green Bay Limited."

Mrs. Libert was the recipient of gifts useful to the traveler.

Mrs. Rondou's guests were Mesdames Libert, S. C. Kinch, Yaeger John Cole and Jack Hosely.

At this time election of officers will take place. All members are urged to be present.

Birthday Supper

Grace Anna Jackson celebrated her twelfth birthday yesterday and in recognition of the event a birthday supper was enjoyed last night at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson at 1800 South Brand boulevard.

A beautiful supper table was arranged by Mrs. Jackson. Pink was the color expressed in all the appointments, sweetpeas in shades of pink being effectively used in fashioning a dainty covering for the pink and white birthday cake, occupying the center of the table. There were twelve pink candles lighting the cake, which was cut as the final course.

At the places were clever Mother Goose place cards and cunning balloon, snapper and cap favors.

After the supper hour Grace Anna and her friends enjoyed dancing and games.

Those invited for the affair were Ethel West, Doris Pittinger, Delia Lawson, Dorothy Bowen, Muriel Poorman, Martha Silverberg, Inez and Alice Boyd and Kathleen Custer of Eagle Rock, Everett Poorman, William Schaffler, Lickolaf Janeochian and Paul Eddinger.

DR. DUNCAN LAID IN FOREST LAWN

Beloved Physician Buried With Simple But Impressive Ceremonies Today

The funeral of Dr. Arthur McDowell Duncan, who died July 10, 1923 was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, in the Little Church of the Flowers.

The friends who gathered to pay the last tribute were of many walks in life. Men of his own profession were there to honor one who, in the performance of duty, was ever a credit to his chosen profession. There were those to whom he had ministered in hours of pain and suffering. Homes were represented in that gathering where he had been the family physician in the fullest acceptance of that term.

His kindness of heart and cherfulness of manner endeared him to all with whom he associated, in their homes, in the neighborhood in which he lived and in the Tropico Presbyterian church, of which he was a member.

Abilities Recognized

A graduate of Bellevue college, New York, and a practicing physician in Ohio, Dr. Duncan came to California, a physician of experience, and during his residence here has had the recognition that his abilities warranted.

He was appointed surgeon for the Pacific Electric Railway during the late war and still retained this connection at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Glendale Physicians Club, being on the board of censors.

Members of this organization acting as pall bearers were Dr. F. M. Rossiter, president of the club, Dr. F. M. Farnham, Dr. H. R. Boyer, Dr. A. L. Bryant, Dr. R. E. Chase and Dr. W. J. Johnson.

Services Impressive

The service was in charge of W. A. Hillis, of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, a life-time friend of Dr. Duncan and family whom they had known in Ohio. Dr. James F. Winnard, pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church assisted in the service.

The hymns, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "What a friend We Have in Jesus," favorites of Dr. Duncan, were sung by Mrs. Fanny Marple Retts, accompanying herself on the organ.

Beautiful flowers were the tributes of love from the many friends of Dr. Duncan and family.

The casket was covered with a beautiful arrangement of red carnations and maiden hair fern, the tribute of the family.

The members of the family present at the service were Miss Carol Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cate, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hillman, Eugene, Richard, and Donald Hillman, of Tulare, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Duncan, Arthur Duncan, Miss Ida D. Myers and Miss Harriet T. Myers.

Interment was at Forest Lawn. L. G. Scovern Undertaking Company were in charge of the arrangements.

GIRARD TO LEAD ELKS GLEE CLUB

Glendale Musician to Direct Array of Talent at B. P. O. E. Concert

Harry Girard, popular Glendale vocalist, is to direct the "Elks' Glee Club of 99" of the Los Angeles Elks' lodge in a concert Wednesday night, July 18, at the clubhouse at 300 South Olive street, Los Angeles. Assisting Mr. Girard will be a whole group of talented artists, among them being William Bode, saxophonist, of Glendale.

In addition to directing, Mr. Girard will take the bass part in selections by a mixed quartet, and a baritone part in a duet number and will also sing a group of baritone solos.

His baritone solos will be "On the Road to Mandalay" (Speaks) and "Danny Deever" (Damrosch).

A special number will be a soprano solo by Agnes Cain Brown, "So-Tu-San" (a Japanese melody with English words by Harry Girard), with saxophone obligato by William Bode.

Guests Invited to Cornerstone Laying

Invitations have been extended Southern California publishers to attend ceremonies which will mark the laying of the cornerstone for the new home of the Johnston Printing company to house the Hermosa Beach Review and the Manhattan Beach News, the event to take place at 4 p. m. July 13, at Hermosa avenue and Thirteenth street, Hermosa Beach.

Mr. Johnston, the proprietor of this concern, is one of the most successful printers in Southern California, having built a big business in the beach city which he obtains principally in Los Angeles. He was formerly manager of Michigan newspapers and he also owns the Oatman, Ariz., News.

D. A. McLaughlin to Talk at Kiwanis Club

D. A. McLaughlin of Los Angeles, supervisor of charities for Los Angeles county, will be the speaker tomorrow noon before the Glendale Kiwanis club. As usual, the luncheon will be held in the banquet room of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The attendance prize will be donated to T. L. Totman, manager of Chaffee's.

SUNLAND

GARAGE EMPLOYE NOW PART OWNER

Jean Oliver Purchases Half Interest in Sunland Auto Business

Jean Oliver, who has been with the Sunland Garage for some time, is reported to have purchased a half interest in the business, the other member of the firm being Noel McVine. The garage has established a growing business and in order to accommodate the patrons has found it necessary to build an addition to the front of the building to house the small car for which they have the agency and accessories.

O. T. Perkiser was honored on his birthday recently by Mrs. Perkiser and a number of friends with an all day picnic at Monte Vista Park. Mr. Perkiser is one of Tujunga's popular tonsorialists and Mrs. Perkiser is prominent in club and Parent-Teacher work.

Games in the open were enjoyed under the shade of the giant oak trees. Even several rounds of that old stand-by, horseshoe pitching, were indulged in. Everyone enjoyed a large birthday cake which was cut in the afternoon. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. Shaw and baby, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cooper and two children, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. George Timmons and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Dunbar and two children, also of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Loving and two daughters of Tujunga.

Mansion Is Burned

The large mansion that has been one of the show places of Sunland for some time was burned to the ground one morning recently about four o'clock.

The structure was a total loss and the fire was confined and prevented from spreading to the park with some difficulty. The fire department was called, but was helpless before the terrific onslaught of flames.

But don't feel too bad about it, because the William Fox Company do those little things every now and then, in the order named, to furnish the dear public with thrills. Yep, you guessed it—it was only a "shell" a set—being used for a picture in which Dustin Farnum is starring, temporarily titled "Southern Dust." Many night scenes were taken in the last few weeks under the glare of a battery of huge lights and careful preparation was made for the burning of the mansion's false front.

Inspector Will Open Bids on Postoffice

Officials of the Glendale postoffice have been notified that an inspector will be here on Tuesday, July 17, to open the bids that have been or that will be received in the meantime for the new postoffice that is to be installed here.

Glendale Product

Receives a Fine Recommendation From a Minneapolis Lady

VEGETONE COMPANY,
Glendale, Calif.

Gentlemen:

For more than five years I had suffered from an ulcerated condition of the stomach. Also gall bladder trouble. While touring California in search of health, I stopped at Glendale. While there I heard of "Vegetone." After using it for two weeks I found I was gaining nicely, so I continued until I had taken several bottles, and find my health better than it has been for years.

I wish everyone suffering from stomach trouble could know of "Vegetone."

Very truly yours,
MRS. D. B. FRYE,
Minneapolis, Minn.

"Vegetone," manufactured in Glendale, Calif., although introduced but a short time, has made a host of friends and boosters. We all need a little "Vegetone." Its aid to the gastric juice in preventing fermentation means a greater per cent of food value.

Not containing any alcohol or other habit-forming drugs, gives it the best first aid space in the medicine cabinet for little ones with "tummy ache"—to grandpop and grandma. It makes the food behave.

It is not like taking medicine. It is a corrective for the digestive fluids. Does not produce fat, but builds up your health and strength through better assimilation. If your nerves are impoverished—use Vegetone. Buy it in quantities and consider it part of your diet.

Write your friends where they can obtain it in the following cities:

Glendale—Roberts & Echols, Broadway Pharmacy.

Eagle Rock—Eagle Rock Drug Co., "The Rexall Store."

Los Angeles—A. J. Bruce Pharmacy, Tunnel Pharmacy.

Long Beach—Busy Bee Drug Stores.

Hollywood—Kress Drug Company Stores.

Alhambra—C. H. Munson, "The Rexall Store."

Riverside—L. A. Gardner & Co.

If the druggists cannot supply you, or fill your mail orders, phone Glendale 1054-W; "Vegetone" Co., Glendale, Calif.—Advertisement.

BURBANK

CITIZENS WOULD IMPROVE STREET

San Fernando Boulevard to Be Fixed, Is Decision of City Trustees

Steps are being taken to smooth up San Fernando boulevard from Cypress avenue to Scott road. The Board of Trustees has approved a petition presented by Joseph W. Smith and seventeen property owners along the street, asking for sidewalks, curbing and the necessary street paving to connect up with the fine concrete pavement, curbing and sidewalk recently put in on the north side of the boulevard at this point.

When this improvement is completed, the Belmar Hills section of Burbank will present a very attractive appearance, it is felt, which will be gratifying not only to residents and prospective buyers, but also to the host of motorists who daily pass that point, along the San Fernando boulevard.

The Board of Trustees has appropriated $350 toward the expense of the advertising booklet now being gotten out by the Chamber of Commerce. It is the idea of the realty board to have this appropriation taken out of the business license money, to which it contributes heavily.

Signal Pole for Police

It is proposed by John H. Long, chief of police, to erect a high pole at Tenth street and Olive avenue, and to place thereon a signal light for policemen, that may be seen from all points of the city.

This signal pole, together with a system of telephones communicating with headquarters, would enable policemen on duty to respond immediately to the needs of the moment, in protecting the city.

Chief Long has taken up the matter with the Board of Trustees, who have recommended that he ascertain the probable cost of the device and report back to the board later.

Choral Club Schedule

Five concerts will be given next season by the Burbank Choral Club, two of them by outside talent sponsored by the club, it is announced by President Powell.

The first concert will be given October 16, by musicians from outside the city. The second concert, which will be the first with local talent, is scheduled for December 4. The next comes March 11, the fourth April 22 and the last June 10.

Rehearsals will begin the night of Tuesday, September 11, President Powell announces, and will be held every Tuesday night thereafter, at 8 o'clock, continuing for an hour and a half, with a ten-minute intermission.

Mrs. Harry J. Valentine, chairman of the social committee, is in charge of arrangements for a picnic the club will hold some time in August. The date has not yet been definitely set, she says.

Dr. Hazeltine, chairman of the membership committee, states that many more members are wanted, and that he would appreciate the names of singers.

It is the consensus of opinion of all chairmen of committees within the Burbank Choral Club that the coming season is to be the most successful to date, and every effort will be bent toward vindicating this opinion. The club enjoys a splendid reputation not only at home but in surrounding communities, and it is believed that this reputation will be considerably enhanced before the end of the coming season.

LA CRESCENTA

FIREMEN BATTLE FLAME IN BRUSH

Prompt Response to Alarm Is Means of Beating Back Menace to Homes

A prompt response to a fire alarm yesterday saved the west end of the community from a severe conflagration. The call was turned in about 1:30 p. m. and answered immediately by Fire Chief Young, who, with a number of volunteers, rushed to the fire, which was near the Begue ranch and in the heart of a dense brush and timber district. After some hard fighting the fire was extinguished, to the relief of all living in that vicinity.

Herbert Coke is laid up at home with a badly sprained leg.

Mr. Perkins is home again after a severe illness, and will soon be able to resume his position in the city.

Miss Ethelyn Smith will hold her class in dramatics on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week. She now has just enough little girls to make the work interesting. The kiddies are studying pantomime and small readings.

Spiritualists Will Hold Meet Tonight

"Health, Hapiness and Prosperity" will be the subject discussed tonight at the meeting of the Success club of local spiritualists tonight at 313 East Wilson avenue.

Talks will be given by Rev. Jennie McHenry and Los Angeles associate pastors and healers.

NEW OFFICER IS NAMED ON BOARD

Leo L. Lang Fills Vacancy in Protected Investment Company's Ranks

Leo L. Lang was appointed to the vacancy in the advisory board of the Protected Investment company made by the resignation of Wallace M. Morgan at the last meeting, held in the office of the Tujunga Land company. Mr. Morgan gave no reason for resigning, other than the press of his other affairs. Mr. Lang has been serving as secretary and treasurer of the company. This position will be filled by James Blaine, who is associated with Mr. Lang in the insurance business.

Three applications for loans were favorably passed on.

Study Church Plans

After the service next Sunday at the Community church the congregation will vote on the plans recommended by the architect and church board for the addition to be built to the church. This plan calls for a 72 by 74 feet, one-story addition. Any other plans or suggestions the congregation may care to submit will be considered at that time. The prevailing sentiment seems to be that the plan outlined will be adopted.

The Wednesday evening prayer service was followed by an adaptation of the old-fashioned spelling bee. Instead of using the dictionary, the Bible was the authority and points were won on the number of verses correctly quoted.

Rev. Harry P. Herdman of the African Inland Mission spoke at the Men's Brotherhood class and also at the Sunday morning services. At the close of the services the sum of $15 was voted for Rev. Herdman's work from the missionary fund of the church.

The Tujunga Christian Endeavor society had the largest attendance at the district rally held in Big Tujunga canyon last Sunday. The rally was in the nature of an echo meeting of the state convention recently held at Long Beach. Speakers who attended the convention addressed the meeting. The local society acted as host and refreshments and entertainment were prepared by committees. Each guest was presented with a convention tag. All societies in the district were well represented.

Sunday School Picnic

A picnic will be held at Brookside park, Pasadena, Saturday, by the Sunday school of the Community church. Transportation will be furnished for those who have none. The machines will leave the church at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

H. I. Farr of North San Ysidro street has been enjoying a visit from his brother, who is superintendent of a prune drying plant at San Jose, Calif.

Mrs. J. A. Folkeith and daughter, Miss Ruth Folkeith, were the guests of honor at an entertainment given by Mrs. R. F. Kimble, a daughter and sister of the above. Among those present were: Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Harry Green, Mrs. Kate Clum, Mrs. W. H. Zachan and daughter, Jean, Mrs. Ketchen, Mrs. Emma Hoffman and Miss Mamie Ketchen.

THE GLENDALE

"Robin Hood," now showing at the Glendale theatre, with Douglas Fairbanks in the feature role, is a mammoth photoplay that combines fact and fancy, a vital drama depicting the chivalrous and romantic spirit of the Twelfth century, comprising an enchanting mixture of the fairly tale and a gorgeous display of valorous deeds of 800 years ago in "Merrie England."

Children and grownups alike, for innumerable generations, have thrilled to the tale of Robin Hood and his archers in Sherwood forest. Remember Friar Tuck, Alana-Dale, Little John, Sir Guy of Gisbourne, the Sheriff of Nottingham, and last and best of all, Robin Hood himself? Well, they are all in this great film—and once again, to the sound of bugles, they race through the "greenwood," and the arrows fly straight and true from their bows bent in the cause of justice.

Some 150 volumes dwelling on the history, art of war, costuming, armor, archery, painting and other subjects were read by Dr. Arthur Woods and his staff, to get the exact information of the period necessary to make the great photoplay absolutely faithful to its high goal. The final result is a super-film that breathes the very spirit of the Crusades and gives historian, student and romanticist a picture of the England of the King Richard I period such as nothing else could possibly convey.

The result is that in "Robin Hood" Douglas Fairbanks has produced a motion picture that is an enlightening visualization of an entire age in the world's history—the age of chivalry.

WILL SPEND $250 ON DECORATIONS

C. of C. Advertising Committee Will Beautify Outlying Sections

Members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce advertising committee, at a meeting that was held in Twining & Myers' office this morning, appropriated $250 to be expended on decorating certain outlying sections of the route to be followed by President Harding and his party on their visit here on August 3. It is understood that the individual business men and the city officials will attend to the decorations in the business section, and the Chamber of Commerce money will be used to beautify those sections lying further from the center of the city.

The contract for the new booklet that is to be issued by the Chamber of Commerce was awarded to The Glendale Evening News, and work on the job will be rushed as rapidly as is possible with the care that the work demands.

Those who were present at the meeting were W. L. Twining, chairman, L. H. Wilson, City Manager W. H. Reeves and John R. Case. P. J. Hayselden was absent.

Tonight Coker & Taylor meet the Page Furniture team.

The Cardinals found the Braves so easy for a 10 to 4 victory that they used an entire team of subs before the game ended.

The Reds went into second place by defeating the Phillies, 6 to 2, and 9 to 6.

Those Who Pitied Jess Willard Now Pick Him To Defeat Firpo

COMPARISONS

NEW YORK, July 12.—Jess Willard, the Kansas "man mountain," will have big advantages in height, weight and reach over Luis Angel Firpo when the pair meet at Boyle's Thirty-Acres tonight. Measurements taken today show the former champion has a margin of twenty-seven pounds on the scales, five inches in reach and nearly five inches in height. Firpo is fourteen years younger.

The comparisons follow:

WILLARD		FIRPO
40	Age	26
241	Weight	214
84 in.	Reach	78 in.
6 ft. 7 in.	Height	6 ft. 2½ in.
8 in.	Wrist	8¼ in.
16 in.	Biceps	14½ in
18 in.	Neck	17 in.
49 in.	(normal) Chest	44 in.
53 in.	(expanded) Chest	48¼ in.
36 in.	Waist	36½ in.
25 in.	Thigh	23¾ in.
15½ in.	Calf	15 in.
9½ in.	Ankle	9½ in.

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The most talked of fighter right now—not barring the principals in that Shelby fracas—is Jess Willard.

Get that. An ex-champion, old enough to be papa to present-day fighters, is drawing the lion's share of publicity.

For two reasons.

First, the fans for the first time appreciate Willard's true worth as a fighter as well as the man personally.

Secondly, the winner of the Dempsey-Gibbons melee must meet Willard before he can call the heavyweight crown his without a question.

Willard has started training for the battle that should put him into the ring with the Shelby victor. That is his fight with Luis Firgo, Argentina argufier with the mighty mitts. They are to meet July 12 at Jersey City.

And as he trains he witnesses the unique spectacle of the fight public shoving him into the favorite's corner after declaring him the innocent victim selected for a bloody slaughter.

When Willard flattened Floyd Johnson after getting a workout of seven rounds the wise birds said, "That's all right, but wait until Firpo kills him."

But as the public settled down to consider things generally the viewpoint changed. Now Willard's terrific punching, long range and rugged makeup is picked to stand off the punches that have brought victory to Firpo against other heavies.

The bout itself should be more interesting than the Gibbons-Dempsey affair. Firpo will be getting his first real test. He has met the best of the young heavies, of course, but they hold no real place in the fistic sun. A victory over Willard would make Firpo. He would be in line for a battle with the champion.

Should Willard toy with Firpo as he did with Johnson or flatten the South American with one gentle wallop, Firpo will have to start his climb all over again. For Willard has ceased to be considered a monstrosity. He has shown that he is a real fighter, of giant size and fearful strength.

Whatever the outcome of this Willard-Firpo battle, it holds little joy for the winner of the Shelby contest.

High School Squad Wins From Cerritos

The High school playground aggregation of indoor baseball tossers defeated the smaller fry from Cerritos playground yesterday when they met on the grounds of the former, with a score of 15 to 7.

Hugo Springer starred for Cerritos with two home runs to his credit. Smith, who played second base for the High school, made one home run. Line-ups were:

High School—Harris, c.; Ardell, p.; Smith, 1b.; Smith, 2b.; More, ss.; Shaw, 3b.; Abent, lf.; Jenkins, cf.; Sherlong, rf.

Cerritos—Walker, c.; Fleming, p.; Springer, 1b.; Poppers, 2b.; Fittinger, ss.; Schwartskopf, 3b.; Erbe, lf.; Gibson, cf.; Henry, rf.

H. E. Bremer, director of Cerritos playground activities, umpired.

Newton Team Defeats Methodists, 23 to 22

Last night's game of the Twilight league baseball series was won by the Newton Electrics from the Methodist church nine by the close score of 23 to 22.

Tonight's game on the Glendale Union high school grounds is between the City Employes and the Christian church team, at 7:30 o'clock, announces R. Ernest Tucker, secretary of Community Service, under whose auspices the series is being run off.

14-POUND TROUT IS FRIEND'S GIFT

J. C. Olsen Receives Present Of Giant Fish Taken From Lake Tahoe

J. C. Olsen, proprietor of the grocery and bakery departments of the Gateway market, corner of Brand boulevard and San Fernando road, was agreeably surprised by the receipt of a 14-pound rainbow trout caught at Meek's bay, Lake Tahoe, by Martin Lowe, a sportsman who spends most of his time there.

The big fish was a present from George Kehlet, of Alhambra, manager of the camp and a personal friend of Mr. Olsen, who states that fish such as this are commonly taken from the Meek's bay section of Lake Tahoe. Mr. Kehlet has at Meek's bay a large camp grounds, a general store, several boats, and other facilities. The spot prides itself, Mr. Olsen says, on being the only spot on Lake Tahoe with a white sand beach.

Miami, Florida, has the rainiest summer climate in the country.

BOTH FIGHTERS IN GOOD SHAPE

Neither Will Have Excuse to Offer If Defeated in Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK, July 12—The pre-battle statements were made today by Jess Willard and Luis Angel Firpo. The latter spoke through an interpreter.

WILLARD—"I feel in as good condition as I have ever felt in my life. I have trained faithfully and if defeated tonight, I will have no excuse. My ambition is to defeat Firpo in a convincing fashion and then to get a match with Jack Dempsey, whom I think I can defeat without doubt and win back the championship."

FIRPO—"I am in the best condition of my life. This is the first time I have trained seriously for a fight in my life. I will give the public my best.

The Willard-Firpo fight tonight in brief:

The main event — Twelve rounds between Jess Willard of Kansas, former world's heavyweight champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, of Argentine, South American champion.

Willard is 41 years of age, 6 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 242 pounds; Firpo, 26 years old, 6 feet, 2½ inches tall, weighs 214 pounds.

Semi-final—Twelve rounds between Floyd Johnson and Jack McAuliffe II.

Preliminaries — "Tiny Jim" Herman, vs. Cliff Kramer; Young Bob Fitzsimmons vs. Tony Roper; Charley Nashert vs. George West.

Referee—Main event, Harry Lewis.

Place—Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City.

Seating capacity—92,000.

Chinese hotels are installing aluminum kitchen equipment.

FIRPO FAVORITE IN TONIGHT'S GO

Broadway Wise Ones Pick South American Winner Over Jess Willard

NEW YORK, July 12.—That a good big man can beat a good little man is the accepted public theory. But whether a good big man, endowed with skill and priceless experience, can beat an equally good big man, with youth and strength in his favor, will be put to a test tonight when Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, clashes with Luis Firpo, the meteoric South American, in a twelve-round no-decision bout at Jersey City. The winner has been promised a title bout with Jack Dempsey.

The Broadway gentry have made Firpo an 8-to-5 favorite. It is possible Firpo may even be a longer favorite, as there was a preponderance of money to be bet on him this morning with little Willard currency showing.

Jimmy De Forest, Firpo's trainer, said he has schooled his charge in his only apparent weakness—a left hand. De Forest claimed the South American is hitting as hard with his left as he is with his right.

"Firpo will be in the best of shape tonight," De Forest said. "I've got him in better shape than he was for any of his fights. He will come in at 214 pounds. He is going to surprise everybody with his ability."

Willard has rounded into perfect physical perfection, according to his trainer, Jack Skelly.

"I'm more than pleased with the way Jess has come around," Skelly said. "He is boxing like a lightweight, is punching harder and judging distances better than ever before. They talk about Firpo's strength, but remember Willard is no weakling. Any man he hits Willard will beat, and Firpo can be hit."

An interesting angle to the bout will be the battle of wits behind the lines. De Forest will be supreme in Firpo's corner. Skelly will have the say in Willard's corner. Both seconds are grizzled boxing authorities. De Forest has conditioned some of the members of boxing hall of fame. Skelly was one of the best little men in his day.

Jack McAuliffe, II, of Detroit, will meet Floyd Johnson in the semi-final. McAuliffe was knocked out by Firpo and Johnson by Willard at the recent milk fund show.

Seldom has any bout arranged, in which no championship is at stake, aroused such an interest as the feature bout tonight. The show is a sell-out, it was announced today, with an advance sale of more than $500,000. Boyles Thirty Acres, where the fight will be staged, is expected to hold between 75,000 and 90,000 persons.

Los Angeles Golfer To Fight for Title

SEATTLE, July 12.—Mrs. C. P. Thomas of Los Angeles was among the sixteen women who qualified for the championship flight of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association here. She turned in a card of 45-47 for a ninety-two. In the championship flight for men, Clark Spiers of Seattle was two up on George Richie of San Francisco this morning. Richie beat Ellis Bragg of Portland six up and four in the first round yesterday.

Reds Take Two Games From Phillies Team

PHILADELPHIA, July 12.—The Reds captured both games of a twin bill from the Phillies yesterday, the first six to two and the final nine to six. Rixey did the hurling for the Reds in the first game and allowed eight hits.

JAMES WINNER IN SUIT OVER FILM

Suit for Share of Proceeds From Feature Show Is Finally Decided

counter suit for $7,500 breach of contract against Mr. and Mrs. James for their failure to furnish their services throughout the entire production, although he had made this impossible.

Victory For James

The trial lasted three days and the case has been before Judge Dehi, who was sitting in Department Four of the Supreme Court, for the past four months. His decision, which has just been received, gives Mr. and Mrs. James a complete victory. It allows them the fourth interest stipulated in their contract and dismisses the counter suit against them.

"When Right Meets Might," in the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. James, is a remarkable feature picture and one which cannot help being intensely profitable. They believe that it is a film which will be endorsed by every church and school board and that the feature is worth at least $40,000.

Mr. James asserts that the fifteen or twenty persons, whose subscriptions have not been repaid, will receive their money back with ten per cent interest as soon as the film is sold. He anticipates that this will be within sixty days.

WATER SPORTS AT PATTERSON PARK

Arrange Program for Big Community Swim at Municipal Plunge

The program of tonight's "community swim" at the Patterson avenue municipal pool, north end of Burchett street, is announced by J. C. Smith, chairman of the committee in charge, as follows:

1.—Swimming.
2.—Talk on swimming by J. R. Case.
3.—Program of water sports.
4.—Talk on future plans for swimming, by Mrs. J. R. Case.
5.—Fancy and long-distance diving.
6.—A special stunt "destined to cause a riot."
7—Volleyball game.
8.—Bonfire and wiener roast, in charge of Mrs. E. A. Troth.

"Should tonight's swim meet with favor," states Mr. Smith, "we plan to hold subsequent aquatic events of like character at weekly intervals, for adults, with a beach party later in the season.

"There is no reason why the grown-ups shouldn't have as much fun out of the municipal pool as the young folks—and a big turn-out tonight will do much to encourage us to continue the community swim idea."

RAIL INJUNCTION NOW PERMANENT

Strikers Must Not Interfere In Any Way, Is Order of Federal Judge

B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen, told International News Service today when informed that Judge Wilkerson in Chicago had made permanent the injunction against the striking members of the railroad shop crafts.

"I am not surprised that the injunction was made permanent," Robertson continued. "The shopcrafts made no defense, being debarred from so doing because of the expense involved. Organized labor has not changed its well known attitude toward government by injunction."

PREMIER SCORES ACTS OF FRANCE

Taking Wrong Way to Make Germany Pay, Declares Official in Commons

win said, "rests upon three points.

"Peace cannot be secured until the three questions are settled," he declared.

"One is payment of the reparations. Another is settlement of the inter-allied debts. The third is the security of a pacified Europe."

Since the occupation of the Ruhr, England has stood aside, Baldwin said, because of her "sincere loyalty toward the alliance which has been and continues to be the main security for the peace of Europe."

Greeted with Cheers

Referring to the British plan to send a reparations proposal to Germany, Premier Baldwin said:

"We do not think that the suggestions of the German note should be ignored. We are willing to assume the responsibility of preparing the draft of the reply and submit it to our allies. We have so informed our allies."

This statement of England's policy was greeted with loud cheers.

The suggestions of the German note, to which the premier referred, have to do with the proposal of an international commission to study Germany's ability to meet the reparations and to fix the terms of payment.

England has not approached the United States in matter of reparations or sought that country's co-operation in her plan of settlement, Baldwin stated.

"So far as united action with our allies is concerned, we will continue to pursue it," Baldwin said.

Invite Consideration

"We will confidently invite the sympathetic consideration of our allies to our proposal which has no other aim than the pacification of Europe and the recovery of an exhausted world."

As a means to this end, Premier Baldwin said, referring to the Ruhr occupation, the "period of conflict should be terminated."

"The indefinite occupation by one country of the territory of another in time of peace is a phenomenon that is rare and regrettable," he said. He was careful to point out, however, that it was not England's desire or a part of her plan to deprive France and Belgium of their legal claims.

On the contrary, he said, England wished to assist in the realization of these claims.

There is general belief despite some indications to the contrary, that Italy supports the British view.

The historic parliamentary chamber was filled with distinguished diplomats and statesmen from every country in the world.

There was no discussion on the statement, an agreement having been made to defer it until next week.

Comes as Surprise

Premier Baldwin's statement came as a complete surprise to those political prognosticators who foretold a message with honeyed words for France.

Another surprise was the force of the Baldwin attack on the Ruhr occupation, which took an added significance in view of the prediction in some quarters that the premier's statement would suggest to Germany that she cease her campaign of passive resistance.

A copy of the draft of the British note to Germany probably will be sent to the United States, it is understood.

Ramsay Macdonald, labor leader, who asked the formal question to which Premier Baldwin's statement was a reply, expressed the hope that the policy announced would succeed in its aims.

Premier Baldwin replied he "did not believe the differences in the views of the allies were as wide as some believed."

25 to 35% off!

BECAUSE—

We Handle Selected Seconds

WHAT IS A SECOND?

A SECOND in plumbing fixtures is a fixture that is not 100 per cent perfect. It may be caused by a slight roll in the casting, which you would not notice—it may be a half inch off in one of its standard dimensions—it may be a slight corrosion of the enamel in one small space—it may be an enamel blister on the shoulder or outside of a tub. None of those so-called "damages" affect the serviceability or comfort of the fixture. In most cases they do not affect the appearance. In nine cases out of ten, the thing that makes the SECOND is merely a variation from some standard specification. LET US SHOW YOU THE SO-CALLED FLAWS. WE DO NOT HANDLE A SINGLE FIXTURE THAT WILL NOT LIVE AS LONG AS A FIRST. SEE FOR YOURSELF.

There ARE substitutes for the VERY GOOD that for all practical purposes are JUST AS GOOD. Well selected SECONDS of plumbing fixtures can seldom be distinguished, except by experts, from FIRSTS. We are frank to say that we sell SECONDS AS SECONDS, as well as FIRSTS AS FIRSTS. We say they will give you appearance and service and durability. Read our definition of a SECOND.

SEE FOR YOURSELF

Our display of SECONDS in plumbing fixtures is open for your inspection. You can pick your own tubs, toilets or sinks in our shop. You know exactly what you are getting. We will tell you the reason why that particular fixture IS a SECOND, and where you save money.

WE INSTALL

We have already built up an enviable reputation for the FIRSTS we have installed in many homes in Glendale.

We will also install your SECONDS, if you wish, with the same care and attention we show on all jobs.

We want your complete satisfaction—for Glendale is a growing city, you are growing with it—you will want more fixtures and so will your friends. As permanent property holders, here to stay, we GIVE SATISFACTION AND CALL A SPADE A SPADE.

OUR SAVINGS YOURS ALSO

We are not ashamed to sell SECONDS, because we know them to be good. We select from the manufacturer's stock the SECONDS we KNOW are RIGHT. In that way we save money, and we pass the SAVINGS TO YOU. WE SELL FOR CASH and keep our goods moving.

In justice to yourself and the principle of economy in a year when building costs and plumbing costs are high, you should investigate the legitimate savings you can make—and we are here to serve you frankly and honestly. See for yourself.

Flood Of Auto Tourists From All States Flows To Southern California

By GIL A. COWAN

"THE whole world is just discovering California! And all of its people are coming here. Then they only have to live in southern California long enough to get acclimated when they become as good boosters as we are," says Lon J. Haddock of the Haddock-Nibley Company, subdividers of Rossmoyne, Glendale, who has just returned from a 3600 mile vacation trip through the west.

"The rest of the country is wonderful—the Columbia gorge is a beautiful thing, but getting back here to southern California is just like being in Paradise. Seven out of ten autos in the northwest are headed for California. A great many of them have their entire belongings and are ready to locate here when they arrive."

Asking him regarding economic conditions in the states visited, Mr. Haddock said, "Fine," adding:

"Idaho is picking up in great shape, and you cannot tell by visible indications there today that financial ruin was wrought two years ago. The crops of grain and hay are flourishing while the berry and fruit crops of both Idaho and Oregon have been most bounteous.

"Salt Lake City shows a much healthier tone. The business men feel that better times are with them and all of Utah is going to have a prosperous year. The Columbia Steel company is going in at Provo, which will mean the development of a great new industry in coal and iron mining.

Friendly Feelings

"I find a friendly feeling between Utah and Southern California which has not been so apparent in years gone by. They appreciate the spirit of co-operation evinced by the Southland. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has been instrumental in getting money for their industrial development, while they are now looking to the Southland as their natural export center of iron, coal and grain.

"On my trip over the desert from here to Salt Lake there were ten cars coming west to one eastbound. You cannot appreciate the great number of tourists and homeseekers headed this way by motor car without meeting them on the road. I had wondered where the great influx was coming from, but I know now. While the Arrowhead trail is one the least traversed, it gave a new conception of the transcontinental automobile traffic.

"We went by the way of San Bernardino, Goffs, St. Thomas, Nev., and St. George, Utah. In all of our 3609 miles travel we did not have what I considered 25 miles of really bad road. The various states seem to be vying with one another in the matter of highway building.

"The auto tourist trade has become a great boon to the communities along the routes of travel. The auto camps are modern and convenient, while the various garages and service stations are more than reasonable with transient trade, I found," Mr. Haddock assured us.

Met Harding Party

"From Salt Lake we motored to Yellowstone National park and had the pleasure of meeting President Harding who, with his party, was touring this great natural playground of the Northwest. We drove out by the way of Bozeman, Butte, Anaconda and Missoula, Mont., visiting the pine forests in the vicinity of Coeur d'Alene. We also visited Spokane on the way south from Washington."

Mr. Haddock and party arrived home yesterday afternoon, with words of praise for all sections visited, but glad to be back again, perhaps because everyone was interested in the Southland, which they call home.

There seemed to be only one

Violations Of Dry Law Bring Heavy Penalty

METHODS of the government prohibition agents in "throwing a scare" into the desert dealers in "cactus juice" were revealed by Lon J. Haddock in an interview with The Glendale Evening News.

At Gilroy a large lodging house is closed with a banner across its front reading:

"This place closed for violation of the Volstead act and will remain closed for twelve months by order of the United States Internal Revenue department."

It is a solemn warning to others.

VISITOR AMAZED BY WONDER CITY

T. F. Higgins, Who Left Here 2½ Years Ago, Returns for Visit

T. F. Higgins left Glendale two and one-half years ago, as a town of 15,000 people. He returned yesterday to find it a city of over 40,000.

Mr. Higgins resided in Glendale for over three years, at 1101 East Wilson avenue. He left on a business trip to San Francisco, meaning to return. But the months passed and business interests in the northern city kept him there.

Yesterday business interests brought him back on a brief visit. He entered the city through the south gate, at Los Feliz road, and was at once amazed by the signs of rapid growth on every hand. As he rode up Brand boulevard to Broadway his amazement increased.

Proves Big Surprise

On every hand he saw tall buildings, either up or in progress of construction, and beheld a city humming with activity. It seemed to him, he said, as though he had made a mistake and returned to the wrong city.

"It just doesn't look like Glendale!" is the way he expresses his surprise at the great development that has taken place in his absence.

Mr. Higgins is stopping with his sister-in-law, Mrs. William A. Anderson, of 610 East Broadway.

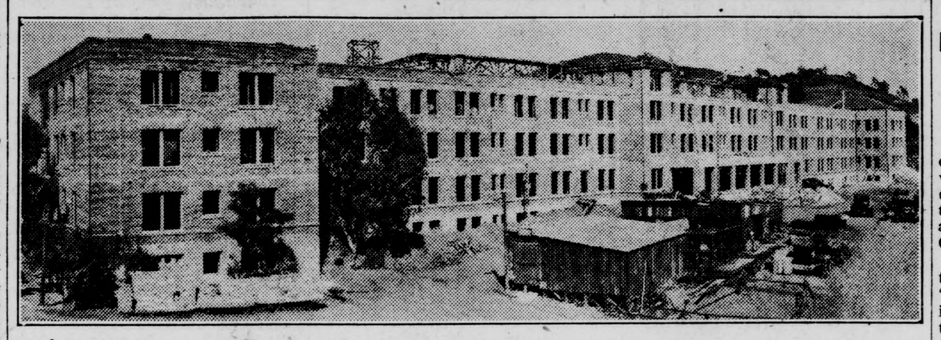
COAST HIGHWAYS IN GOOD SHAPE

Motorists Report All Roads In Excellent Condition In Pacific States

Tourists coming to California by way of Oregon and Washington report that roads are in excellent condition, one party of auto campers passing through from Ohio stating that only six miles of poor roads are found from Cleveland, Ohio, to Portland, Ore. Coast roads are exceptionally good they report, there being only a few miles in southern Oregon and northern California which are not paved.

Three auto camps in southern Glendale along San Fernando road are caring for a capacity number of tourists.

Complete About Half Of Construction For Glendale Sanitarium And Hospital



This picture, made from a photograph taken the first of the week, shows the rapid strides in construction of the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Those in charge declared they are well pleased with the progress made. The weekly payroll for the workers amounts to about $5000, it is stated. The new institution will be a great credit to Glendale.

EX-SERVICE MEN WILL BE GUESTS

Tuesday Afternoon Club to Stage Entertainment for Disabled Veterans

Tomorrow will be "Ex-Service Men's Day" at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, the clubwomen being hostesses in the afternoon to Glendale World War veterans from the Sawtelle hospital, and over 100 of the disabled veterans from the Sawtelle hospital.

The club committee arranging for the boys' entertainment includes Mesdames E. W. W. Hayward, Lillian Dow, William Hunter, C. W. Houston and A. P. Findlay.

Automobiles furnished by Glendalians are to be in readiness to leave the clubhouse at 12 o'clock promptly for Sawtelle to bring the disabled boys to Glendale for the afternoon's entertainment.

Immediately upon the arrival of the out-of-town boys a sleight-of-hand performance will be presented in the auditorium by "Mysterious Emerson" of vaudeville fame. The program will not last more than three-quarters of an hour. Mrs. C. H. Pendleton is to serve as pianist during the performance, Miss Lucile Allen as violinist and Miss Winifred Parker as drummer.

Tickets for the affair will be sold to other than ex-service men and can be purchased at the door.

Glendalians desiring to furnish automobiles for the trip to and from Sawtelle have been asked to call Mrs. Barton at Glendale 2958 or to be on hand with their cars at the clubhouse at noon tomorrow.

Picture Brings Back Lost Wallet and $29

George F. Newman of 237 North Cedar street claims that he is "one man proud of his face"—to the extent of $29 at least. Sunday Mr. Newman lost a wallet containing that amount of money in addition to a picture of himself and a few personal papers. Yesterday H. M. French, 315 North Cedar street, found the pocketbook and, after looking at the picture, recognized the owner while passing his house. The men were total strangers, the picture being the only clew to the ownership of the lost wallet.

Trainmen Injured in Freight Train Wreck

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 12.—Two trainmen were injured and six cars and a locomotive were wrecked yesterday when a special freight train of empties crashed into the rear end of a regular freight on the Southern Pacific tracks at Midland, seven miles from here. W. W. Potter, conductor, and W. W. Welshaus, brakeman, were painfully injured when the caboose was smashed.

Aged Woman Beggar Found to Be Wealthy

ROME, July 12.—Fire in hte home of an aged woman beggar in Mantua revealed to police and firemen silver and bank notes totaling 13,000 lire and 175 kilograms of copper and nickel valued at 2,000 lire. There also was a savings bank book showing many substantial deposits. The treasure was buried in an old straw mattress. It was returned to the woman.

Pop Was Too Feeble For Pop; Jail Looms

BRIDGEPORT, Ohio, July 12.—Nick Pop did not live up to his name, according to police officers. They raided Nick's place and found something stronger than pop. Eight barrels of mash were seized. Because Pop has been arrested three times he will be prosecuted under the new law which provides a penitentiary sentence for persons convicted the third time of violating the dry laws.

Rapid Progress Being Made On Building; Institution Credit to This City

One-half of the construction work has now been completed upon the new plant of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

W. E. Whalin, superintendent of construction, stated yesterday afternoon that he was well pleased with the progress of construction.

C. E. Kimlin, business manager of the Sanitarium and Hospital, inspected the premises again yesterday afternoon and announced that he was well satisfied with the showing to date. He anticipated that it will be possible to use a portion of the new plant before the expiration of the year.

The three-story administration building, which is of concrete with a brick exterior, has a present length of 415 feet. This is being increased by the medical building which will adjoin it on the west side and will have an additional length of ninety feet. Placed upon the rounded top of a gently rising hill in what is regarded by many as the most beautiful spot in Glendale, this massive building is attracting the attention of all who see it from a distance while motoring.

Provides Heavy Payroll

The weekly payroll now amounts to $5,000, according to E. E. Covert, the timekeeper. He explained that 139 employes are now on the job. Trades are represented as follows: Carpenters, fifty-three; masons, twenty-nine; concrete workers, twenty-four; plumbers, thirteen; electricians, ten; plasterers, six; and steamfitters, four.

H. B. Brigham, foreman of masonry and plastering, declared that about 18,000 bricks have been utilized. With the exception of the exterior of the solarium, which is being completed this week, all brick work upon the main building has been completed.

About twenty carloads of cement has been used in the concrete work, according to Mr. Brigham. Each car carried about 400 100-pound sacks, so that the total quantity of cement used amounted to 800,000 pounds, or 400 tons.

Made of Hollow Tile

Partitions between the rooms will be of hollow tile. Work of installing these partitions is now underway. They are being plastered as rapidly as completed. So far, little of the plastering work has been done outside of a few offices on the ground floor, the ceiling of the kitchen and the rough coat in the parlor and dining room.

The administration building and medical building will have 462 windows. Frames have been installed in these already, although the sashes have not yet arrived on the job.

Steamfitting is now being done throughout the main building. It is estimated that it will be at least five months before this is completed.

The wooden caps are being built which will ornament the roof. The real roof is of concrete and flat. The upper portion of the roof will be protected with asbestos shingles.

Meanwhile W. A. Hoff of San Francisco is studying ways and means to beautify the landscape. He is given much of the credit for the artistic success of the landscaping connected with the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

ODD FELLOWS TO INSTALL TONIGHT

District Deputy Brings Team To Aid in Ceremonies at Local Lodge

District Deputy Grand Master Fuller and his installing team of Odd Fellows from Lancaster will come to Glendale tonight to conduct the installation at the Glendale lodge, Number 338.

The installation will take place at 8 o'clock in the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway and a record crowd of lodge members and visiting members is anticipated.

Daniel Hall will be installed as noble grand; Henry Stevens as vice grand; A. J. Esterly as recording secretary; Frank Stanley as financial secretary; and Charles M. Pease as treasurer.

There will also be eleven appointive officers to take office.

Following the installation a banquet is to be served.

GETS PUBLICITY FOR THIS CITY

Postmaster Jackson Relates To Exchange Club His Convention Trip

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson of 1800 South Brand boulevard was the principal speaker yesterday noon in the banquet room of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Exchange Club.

Captain Jackson reported upon the advertising given Glendale as "the fastest growing city in America" recently in San Francisco at the postal convention. He added that he was preparing to give this community as much publicity as possible September 24, 25 and 26, when he attends as a delegate the national convention of the Exchange Club at Springfield, Mass. George A. Whitaker of 400 East Broadway, vice-president of the local club, will accompany him as a delegate.

The Community Service Boys' Band, which is being sponsored by the Exchange Club, was discussed. Peter Niece of 133 North Brand boulevard, who is chairman of the committee which has this in charge, suggested that the club should look forward to planning an entertainment to raise funds for the purchase of uniforms for the boys.

Invited to Springs

Captain W. B. Kelly of 106 West Colorado street invited the club to spend the week-end of July 21 at his mountain estate, San Jacinto Hot Springs. This was tentatively agreed upon and final details will be discussed at the next meeting of the club.

President Warren G. Harding's sightseeing tour through Glendale about noon August 3 was the subject of comment. It was suggested that, inasmuch as Mr. Harding is an Exchangeite, the club should turn out in a body to greet him. It was added that suitable and distinguishing headgear might be worn by all members. To make further arrangements, a committee was appointed, consisting of R. E. Johnson, W. B. Kelly, Dr. Warren Z. Newton, E. B. Sutton, E. F. Heisser, Peter Niece, F. C. Butler and James Howarth.

Guests at the luncheon were Harry Nielsen of 727 South Central avenue, Eagle Rock, and Henry Cantor of 431 East Acacia avenue. Mr. Cantor was booked to sing before the club, but was unable to do so because of a sore throat.

Six Atlantic States To Picnic Saturday

Six Atlantic states will picnic at Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, on Saturday, July 14, it is announced. They are Virginia, Maryland, North and South Carolina, Delaware and Georgia.

Separate sections will be set aside for each state and registers for each county will be open all day.

Picnickers are requested to bring their own basket dinners. Hot coffee will be furnished to all and silk souvenir badges will be supplied. A program will follow the dinner.

Confectionery and food stores of England are compelled by law to close at 9:30 o'clock at night and all Sunday.

SUBMITS REPORT ON REALTY MEET

Dr. Jessie A. Russell Gives Tentative Resume Of Annual Convention

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, the official delegate of the Glendale Realty Board, to the National Real Estate convention that was held at Cleveland, Ohio, recently, presented a tentative report of the convention at yesterday's regular meeting of the board in the Hartlett Mae Tea room on East Harvard street, relating a number of interesting and amusing sidelights on the meeting of the country's realtors, contrasting the methods of various cities in bringing themselves before the notice of the delegates to the convention.

Dr. Russell's official report to the board will be submitted within a few days and will take up in detail the points that are to be considered by the local organization, and it is anticipated that this report will present matters that will be of vital interest to the board. From Dr. Russell's preliminary report of the convention and of her meetings with realtors from all over the country, the members gathered the firm impression that the methods in use in the coast states are far more modern than those followed in eastern sections of the country, while the advantages offered by this part of the United States afford the men and women in the real estate business an opportunity that is denied those of the east.

Advertising Pays

Peter Hansen, acting as secretary in place of E. P. Hayward, who is absent on his vacation, turned in a check for $50 that had been received from C. E. Kimlin of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, to show the appreciation of that institution of the benefits that had been received through the recent issue of The Arrowhead Magazine. Mr. Kimlin was thanked for his check, as was also Glen Dolberg, who had made the Realty Board a substantial reduction on the price of photographs used in the Arrowhead's Glendale number.

W. L. Twining, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce advertising committee, renewed his request for pictures of Glendale property that has changed hands within recent years and that has shown a concrete evidence of advance in price. It was agreed that the advertising committee could use data regarding any business or industrial property on which a bona fide offer has been made recently or on which a price has been fixed, as showing the advance in value over the figures at which the property changed hands during 1918 to 1920. These figures and pictures will be used in the advertising campaign that is to start within the next week or two.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Discovering Nan

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

"She isn't at all beautiful, but she makes up in cleverness. I never saw such a girl to have a ready answer or set somebody in his place."

Nan Little was used to hearing this description of herself. Since she could remember, her mother and father had excused her appearance—which, in comparison to her sisters, was plain—and had added the compliment to her wit. Nan grew up reconciled to her ordinary looks and determined to make the most of her boasted asset.

Blessed with a sense of humor, it was not difficult for the girl to attract attention. The results encouraged her and, as she grew older, she made the mistake of adding a sting to her comments She did not mean to be unkind or critical; it was just that so many things appeared ridiculous and she was trained in pointed description.

Nan remained single, a fact which for a time neither she nor her mother could understand."

"If I do say it," the mother said, "you are the smartest one in the family and yet you are the only one who is not settled. It must be the young men of this generation are more interested in a pretty face than they are in brains."

When she was a few years past thirty Nan owned to herself what was the matter.

"It is too late, now," she said. "No one would believe me if I were to say what I want most is someone to take care of, someone to bundle in a muffler and coat in winter—someone who will care for me. I have been scornful and so keen at seeing the funny and weak sides of persons that I have frightened all my friends. They, some of them, like to come and hear me talk, but they are all afraid."

It was the truth. Nan's cleverness held acquaintances at bay. There had been one man who braved her sallies and enjoyed them, a man who called frequently and laughed loud when the girl warmed to descriptive conversation. One day she caught herself looking at his ears. They moved in a peculiar manner, when he talked as he was talking then, very seriously. Nan laughed and in her confusion blurted out the reason.

"It is just too funny," she heard herself exclaiming, "the way your ears wiggle."

When she watched him go away she knew he would never come back and wondered how much she cared. He would never know how much she wished to call him back—she would have if she could have explained. Nan grew more critical than ever as she became reconciled to the fact she could never be understood.

The idea came to her when she read in the paper that a troop of Girl Scouts were going to camp at a lake resort. She would go, too. study these young girls, maybe get a chance to take part in their fun. She would see young life, somewhere where she was not known.

At the lake the possibilities of the idea developed. "I will take a vacation from myself, from the clever Nan Little, and act as I have always wished I could act," she told herself and every time she felt a sharp retort or pointed comment rise to her lips she weighed it on her tongue. At first it was difficult, but she persisted and had her triumph when she began to make friends. In three weeks she could not leave her cottage without being surrounded by girls.

"I can't go back, right yet," she decided and wondered if she could not get a position in some work which would let her continue to be a friend of girls. At times she asked herself if she had not changed too much. Here is a letter Corine Wade, one of the girls sent to her father:

"I am bringing Miss Little home with me for a week. She is the sweetest, gentlest, and most helpful person I have ever seen

Tom Wade, father of Corine, sighed, "Of course, we must put ourselves out to be nice to anyone Corine likes, but I can just picture the 'sweet and gentle creature. I like women who are not afraid to speak their mind."

From the first Wade was interested in Nan. He noticed the upturned nose and saucy set of chin and tried to reconcile it with her quiet ways and his daughter's description. Nan ached to set the house in order, pitied the widower in his helplessness and, whenever she was alone, took delight in placing his slipper, pipe and other belongings where he could find them.

"Make the most of it, Nan Little," she said to herself in the glass as she stood in the hallway removing her hat. "In a week you will go back home to become the clever and snippy old maid. Your vacation from yourself is nearly over, but—" She gasped and embarrassment and fright took possession of her senses. There was another face in the mirror! Tom Wade was in the hall and must have heard. The girl did not dare turn around, but bowed her head on her arms and waited for him to go. He ought to pretend he did not hear.

Then she felt his hand on her shoulder trying to turn her to face him. The shoulder shook and Nan Little sobbed as she had not sobbed in years.

"Don't go back," said the man. "Stay right here and be as clever and snippy as you like. I am glad you are not—all Pollyanna."

The answer was given buried in Tom Wade's coat, but it was satisfactory.

WHEN APRON AND DRESS AGREE

The long-waisted slip-on frock of Pharaoh blue eponge pictured here quite agrees that it should have the protection of the dainty apron of organdy trimmed with hemstitching. The apron may be cut either crosswise or lengthwise. requiring three-fourths yard of thirty-six-inch material for the former and one yard for the latter method. Three and one-half yards of pongee are needed for the dress.

Pictorial Review Apron No. 1485. Sizes 34, 40 and 44 inches, bust. Price 25 cents. Dress No. 1293. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches, bust. Price, 35 cents.

ATTRACTIVE IN RUST VOILE

A most becoming frock to slip into for an afternoon call or tea is this one in rust color voile trimmed with hand-run tucks. Soft silk ribbon in self-color forms the girdle, and the deep collar and turnback cuffs are edged with tiny accordion-plaited frills of ribbon, also in rust. Medium size requires five and one-half yards of thirty-six-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1482. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches, bust. Price, 35 cents.

Beauty Chats

by Edna Kent Forbes

TREATMENTS COSTING NOTHING

Young girls who are just going out to work often write me and say that their hair, or complexions, or hands suffer, because they can't afford the proper treatments to keep in attractive condition. Now, to show how foolish it is to suppose that beauty treatments are expensive, here are some suggestions that can be carried out with no cost at all.

First of all, it doesn't cost a cent to singe or clip the hair once in six weeks. Yet this treatment, neglected for a few years, will mean split ends and poor hair. Even hair that apparently is in perfect condition should be so treated—it will put off the day when split ends will appear.

It doesn't cost anything to keep a little orange wood stick on the bathroom shelf, and to push back the cuticle around the nails whenever the hands are washed. Yet this little habit will do wonders in improving the shape of the nails, giving them length and an artistic appearance in time, and from the very start, keeping the edges smooth and doing away with the need for frequent manicures.

I might say it costs nothing, or at least, it costs no more to eat simple foods, rather than rich, indigestible combinations that ruin the complexion. I might even say, though it sounds like preaching, that it costs less, for the girl earning her first salary is too apt to indulge herself with candies and other hard to digest sweets.

One girl wrote me that she had a muddy skin, full of blackheads, but her family did not approve of cold cream. I answered that she should use lard, an ideal cleanser, the basis of many toilet lotions and even perfumes. Its odor is against it, but if you can put up with that for a few minutes, there is no better ointment to cleanse the skin. It can be washed off in a few minutes.

Esther M. K.—About straightening your bow-legs, I can only advise you to go to a doctor who may be able to tell you what kind of braces to get to wear at night. Any kind of gymnastics will tend to make you taller, and you can also dress to appear taller, than you are.

Sensitive Mary—I would advise you to take plenty of cold baths, as this strengthens the pores of the skin and will do a lot towards giving you relief from the odor of strong perspiration.

Dimples—You probably need a good hair tonic, and if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope I will gladly mail you a formula for one. To keep the hair light, use a little lemon juice in the last rinse when shampooing.

Susan—I would not advise you to try any experiments to darken your hair. Any shade of red is beautiful and an attempt to darken it might be disastrous. You can bring out the color of your hair best by wearing black and dark rich colors.

Side Talks

WHAT IS A SNOB?

"Any one man is as good as any other and a little bit better than some.".

I heard that quoted the other day as the typical American idea of social relationships. The "one man" is, of course oneself.

It surely is expressive of the way a great many of us react to the abhorrent idea of one person being socially superior to another in this land of the free—provided we are not that one person.

If we feel that someone is setting up to be more exclusive and aristocratic than we are, we are filled with indignation and democracy and set up the cry of "social climber".

Yes, But—

Let us stop first and ask ourselves, "Is there no one toward whom we feel exclusive and aristocratic?"

We think those people up on the hill are snobs, and we say they have no reason to act so superior and patronizing just because they have bigger houses and gardens and a little more money than we happen to have.

Are we perfectly sure that we do not act superior and patronizing to those people who live in the little shanties down by the creek, just because we have larger houses and gardens and a little more money than they happen to have?

A Good Definition

There is a great deal said about social democracy and snobs and about social climbing which is all pure nonsense.

Thackeray says, "He who forgets his own friends meanly to follow after those of higher degree is a snob."

I should call that a pretty fair definition.

To let consideration of money or position entirely outweigh considerations of friendship and character and intellect, is to be a social climber.

Then We Are All Snobs

But if to have feelings of pride in some distinguished friend, to take a certain joy in referring to the friendship, to be willing to be seen walking down the street with some local magnate, to have it noted how cordially the owner of the most beautiful mansion in town greets one, is snobbery, then I think practically all of us are snobs.

We like to be distinguished ourselves, and we like to be associated with distinction. It is an absolutely human natural instinct. There is nothing unreasonable about it. But we are unreasonable when we indulge in it ourselves and condemn it in others.

"How can people start out on such a hot day as this, just to go on a picnic?" exclaimed a friend of mine, as she watched a family of eight climb onto a trolley car with a basket mounded with napkinsful of food.

My eyes followed hers and I noted the happy faces of the six children and the smile of the sweet-faced mother and kind-faced father.

"I don't agree with you," I argued. "Those people have the right idea. They are snatching their pleasures by the wayside—not waiting until they 'make money' before enjoying life. It may be true that they suffer from the heat and get overtired on such an outing—but they are crowding real joy into their work-a-day lives. They are the wise ones of the world."

I feel the same way when I watch automobiles going by. Have you ever noticed how happy people in cheap cars look and how bored people in $3000 cars look? I have. And instead of laughing at the wheezing, rattling old cars, I always say to myself: "How clever they are to snatch their joy from life in spite of the handicap of poverty!"

And it is the same with the little things in our daily lives. For instance I personally don't care for ear-rings. But if ear-rings mean happiness to my neighbor, then I believe in ear-rings for her; if she loves and longs for ear-rings—then she is foolish not to give herself this simple pleasure if she can possibly manage to afford it.

Another woman might find satisfaction in putting perfumery in the water in which she shampoos her hair. I personally don't like perfumery. But if she loves to have her hair faintly scented—then by all means she should indulge herself in this simple way. Why not?

There are troubles enough and disappointment enough in our lives to make them drab-colored, without cheating ourselves of the harmless little pleasures which mean so much to us, day in, day out. We can't all like the same things. Let us, then, be tolerant of each other's tastes and admire each other for snatching a little joy by the wayside. Let us bring the picnic spirit into our lives—and clutch our day, or our brief hour, of joy while we may!

Tomorrow—Putting Up the Season's Berries

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

FORM LETTERS

My Dear Followers:

The following rules of the column will have to be followed in asking for discussions and for material which we offer. Otherwise your letters cannot be given attention:

First: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must enclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.). The address must include your full name, city or town, state and street number. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must also include 4 cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails.

Second: Write legibly with pen or typewriter, and not more than 200 words. If your handwriting is not clear, get someone to write for you.

Third: When you ask for material to be sent, have your s. a. s. e. at least a full-sized envelope. It is very difficult to stuff a whole pamphlet into a baby envelope.

Fourth: Address your letters to me in care of your paper. They will be forwarded to me at my office in New York City.

Fifth: Please sign your name as evidence of good faith. We promise that we shall not use it in any way.

Sixth: Do not ask for material to be sent you unless it is something we have offered to send inquirers. You may, however, ask me to write on any subject of general interest which I have not covered, and I will be glad to do so as soon as possible.

Seventh: Do not ask for diagnoses or for individual treatment. I could not safely give you these even if I had the time. This is the province of your personal physician.

Eighth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is ignored. And allow very much longer than that for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear there.

Ninth: Watch my answers to correspondents and articles each day for something similar to the question you want discussed, and consider yourself answered when you see that, whether your initials are appended or not. Many people ask the same question and I must answer them all together to save time and space.

Unless all of the first seven rules are complied with your letter cannot receive any attention. I dislike to have to put all of these restrictions on you, but unless you do follow them it is going to be impossible for us to handle our mail.

If you will remember that my "Diet and Health" is a syndicated feature, appearing all over the United States and Canada and in every section of the country, creating great interest, you will realize the extent of my mail. I want to be able to read all of your letters. They are an inspiration and a help to me, but I shall not be able to do it unless you follow these rules, because of the tremendous number of them.

You may never see your answer under your own initials, for in the column I can answer very few and I try to choose those letters by the answering of which I can help the largest number. Probably ninety per cent of our letters have to do with the question of reducing, so, naturally, that subject being of the greatest interest—and, incidentally, of the greatest general importance—there will be a great deal on that subject always.

You will find I have to repeat my advice very often. But it is by repetitions that we learn, so that is desirable. I shall prepare many of my articles so that you can get them again by sending the s. a. s. e. and following the other directions. But unless I have written on a subject and have offered to send it to you, it will not be available for distribution.

Please remember that I cannot take the place of your family physician, I cannot make diagnoses for you, nor treat you personally, nor write individual diets. I appreciate very much the wonderful confidence you are showing in me, but if you think for a moment you can realize that diagnoses and personal treatment would be impossible. I can only take up in the column questions that will be of general interest to all my readers.

I feel like adding a tenth rule. It is this: Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much help you are getting from it. For that is an inspiration to me and, of course, makes my work happier.

I shall probably have to run this article just as it is once a month at least to keep the newcomers in column order and probably to remind you, too, though I hope you will help me and hasten my reply to you by remembering to observe our rules.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am an unmarried woman thirty-two years old and I have a married sister who is two years older than I am. She has three children. For some time my sister's health has not been good and now the doctor has said she must go away for a month's vacation. They have located a place on a farm where she thinks she would like to stay if she can get any one to stay with the children. She wants me to come, but I hardly know whether it would be proper since my brother-in-law would stay there too. I do not feel I can do anything that would compromise my reputation, which is good, if I do say it. What do you think?

ANNA W.

Nothing in the world would be more natural than for you to stay with your sister's children. People would not talk because the situation would be quite proper. It seems to me you ought to consider your wornout sister in this matter anyway and relieve her while she gets a good rest.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man, engaged to one girl and crazy about another. Next door to us there is a girl who has come to live with her grandparents because her own father and mother have separated. Naturally I see quite a bit of her in a neighborly way, but I have not taken her anywhere because it would not be fair to the girl I had expected to marry.

For three months I have tried to get over caring for the neighbor girl, but I find it impossible. I have tried to put her out of my mind and be faithful to my sweetheart, but it seems useless. The worst of it is that now my sweetheart bores me and I no longer enjoy her company.

I have almost decided that I cannot marry her. Would you advise me to tell her I no longer love her as I did? Or do you think I ought to be faithful to my word and marry her whether I love her or not? FICKLE.

I never advise marriage without love. Probably you had better tell the girl that you do not love her as you thought you did, and therefore you want her to release you from the engagement and forget about you. Such a thing is a disagreeable matter and ought to teach you to be more cautious next time and not become engaged unless you are very sure of your love. Betrothal is a most serious affair and should not be gone into lightly.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a daughter eighteen years old who for three years has teased her father and me to let her have her hair bobbed. We have not approved of bobbed hair and have refused to give our consent. Lately we have been talking it over and we are afraid we have been wrong in denying her a thing which she wants so much.

Do you think bobbed hair will go out of style soon and therefore it would be foolish to give our consent now?

MARY'S MOTHER?

Bobbed hair shows no signs of going out of style. Many have let their hair grow, but on the other hand many are bobbing their hair this year who have not done so before. It seems to me you are quite right in deciding to let your daughter do a thing which she desires so very much.

THE REASON

Americans are living longer.
Experts have been at work.
And have found that the Average of life is fifty years.
Back in the nineties
The average was but thirty-nine years.
New York state health officer
Says average city man can Expect to reach half-century.
Many causes are assigned
For this longer span,
But we have an idea that
The real reason of it is
That more people everywhere
Are riding in automobiles
And, therefore, fewer people
Are trying to dodge them.

France has 5000 new aircraft ready for war. All she has to do now is to look around and find some country that wants to fight them.

* * *

New Jersey doctors are now prescribing radio receiving sets in case of illness. Their idea is to inoculate patients with radio programs and make them forget as far as possible their troubles.

Followed out to the ultimate this plan offers some surprising possibilities which may be enumerated briefly.

For a nervous patient, for instance, one suffering a nervous breakdown how soothing would be two or three hours of jazz played by some Broadway cafe orchestra, including washboilers, skillets, locomotive whistles and cowbells. Can't you see that patient getting out of his hospital cot and walking home a well man?

A patient laid up at home with gout, one foot bandaged and resting on a pillow, would appreciate that celebrated radio lecture: "How I Climbed to the Top of Mount McKinley," by Professor Philander Butts, of Snookum College.

A man suffering from dyspepsia would be made immediately well by the well-known program lecture on "Hog Culture in Kansas and Glimpses Into the Chicago Stockyards."

An insomnia patient listening-in would immediately call for his clothes, go home in a taxicab and go to bed and sleep if he heard the waltz "Three o'Clock in the Morning."

A speech by Senator Borah during the evening would half empty any hospital, all the men jumping out of bed and saluting the nurses and looking for a gun and a khaki suit to go forth to battle.

People suffering from mild forms of insanity would listen to two or three bedtime stories, and, being able to understand them, would declare their complete return to sanity and demand their release.

There is probably a good deal to the new theory, and if the patients stand the first two or three tests nothing can kill them.

TOKIO, June 12—Being the envoy of Soviet Russia to Tokio is not attended with the usual pleasures enjoyed by diplomats, according to A. A. Joffe, Moscow visitor in imperialistic Japan. Greeted by suspicious members of the National Spirit association, who profess fear that he is in Tokio to aid in overthrowing the imperial form of government, his room entered by rowdies who are paid to throw in handbills bearing the message "throw Joffe in jail," Joffe cannot be said to enjoy the unbounded friendship of all Japanese.

Joffe arrived in Tokio from Atami, a southern Japanese health resort, early in May. He came as the unofficial guest of Viscount S. Goto, president of the Russo-Japanese association of Tokio. Viscount Goto brought Joffe to Japan from Peking in the hope that through informal negotiations there might be brought about at least a trade agreement, if not a complete diplomatic exchange between Tokio and Moscow. After nearly three months of informal discussions in Atami and Tokio the work of Viscount Goto has not been completely without fruit; but while he has labored for what he believes to be the good of Japan, Viscount Goto, as well as Joffe, has had his troubles from the anti-Moscow, anti-radical element of Tokio.

To date Viscount Goto has had his house entered by fellow countrymen; expensive curios, including a valuable Buddah imported from China, have been broken by the mob; threats have been made against Viscount Goto himself, and he has been forced to maintain a heavy personal guard. Similar attacks have been made against Joffe, but, due to the constant watching of the metropolitan police of Tokio, the worst that the anti-Moscow element accomplished was to enter Joffe's room at the Tsukiji Seiyoken Hotel, when denunciatory handbills were thrown at him.

It is quite natural in Japan, home of the greatest remaining imperial government, that some of the people are antipathetic, but many others have taken this opportunity to learn more about Russia and the Russians.

Indeed, there has been a vogue for everything Russian in Tokio in the last three months. When a Japanese young man abandons his Japanese kimono and dons the short blouse and black sash of the Russian and even lets his hair grow bushy about the ears, it must be admitted that the influence of the Russian on the Japanese has been strongly felt. Perhaps the young Japanese secretary of Joffe, Mr. Taguchi, is responsible for some of this. And Taguchi makes no secret of his disgust for the Japanese who dare to criticise the motives of his employer. Indeed, Taguchi was the first of the Tokio Japanese to don the blouse and the black sash of the Russians. Equally was he first to be attacked by the Japanese anti-radicals, as they called themselves. While attending Mr. Joffe at the Tsukiji Seiyoken Hotel, Taguchi was roughly handled by some of his Japanese countrymen, who asserted that Taguchi was a traitor to work for the envoy of Moscow and that to wear Russian dress was heaping insults against Japan.

Long before the fall of the imperial regime in Petrograd Japanese young men were interested in Russian literature. Mr. Y. Tsurumi, son-in-law of Viscount Goto, has made quite a study of Russian influence on the young Japanese, and he reports that it is considerable.

While New York applauds the Chauve Souris and the Moscow Art Theatre, Tokio is delighted to take a less elaborate review or a grand opera company from the country of Bolshevism and give either of them weeks and weeks of welcome. Mr. Tsumuri tells of visiting a class of more than a hundred young Japanese recently, ninety per cent of whom spoke in favor of Russian literature in preference to English or American.

Billy Whiskers

by Frances Trego Montgomery

Yesterday, you remember Billy and Nannie were attacked by gypsy dogs.

"Baah, Baah!" came two frightened voices from under the hedge by the side of the road, and from under this cover ran the twins, who had followed their grandparents secretly until now.

"Grandfather! save us! Save us!" baahed the twins.

And now Billy did have work for his horns to do, with three goats to protect and to fight off a dozen or more half starved ferocious dogs.

"Keep close to your grandmother," baahed Billy, "and stop crying. And when you get a chance, run for home as fast as ever you can!"

On hearing the word home, both the twins started to run in that direction as fast as they could, three of the dogs running low to the ground, bent on catching them, for they knew the taste of tender young kids as well as lambs.

But alas for them! Just as they were passing Billy and Nannie, both the old goats made a spring for them and kicked them over the hedge, where they lay too disabled to move, while the kids ran so fast one could not see them for the dust they kicked up.

Now Billy and Nannie had to look out for themselves for here were six or seven big dogs ready to pounce on them, all barking furiously, trying to get up courage to tackle these two big, fierce looking goats with such long, sharp horns.

"Sic 'em!" called a gypsy from the camp. But he wished afterward he had not, for in a second his pet lay bleeding beside the road where Billy had hooked him. Another was whining in the dust, and a third was just making a spring at Nannie when she wheeled and caught him on her horns.

"Good for you, Nannie!" called Billy, to encourage her.

By this time the gypsies saw that their dogs were getting the worst of it, so called them off, but right here Billy and Nannie had one of the surprises of their lives, for before either of them knew it, they heard the whirr of a rope as it was thrown into the air, and it quickly dropped into place around their necks. They had been lassoed!

"Well, of all provoking things!" exclaimed Billy. "To find one's self lassoed and captured by a gypsy band when not two miles from home!"

(Tomorrow you hear more about the gypsy camp.)

CHANGING GEARS ON HILLS

Practice Shifting High to Second Until It Becomes Second Nature

Hills are very seldom encountered that a modern car will not easily climb on high gear, but there is a limit to the pulling power of every engine and combinations of extremely steep grade and sandy or rough surface are sure to be occasionally encountered, that make necessary a shift into second or even low speed. If an engine is not in nearly perfect condition it is surprising how often the lower gears will be required on steep roads. For the benefit especially of motorists who are driving for the first time this season, the following suggestions are offered: Quickness and some degree of experience in applying the brakes, shifting gears and starting up under adverse conditions are required before a car can safely be driven up steep hills, because of the danger of losing control and running backwards—perhaps off the road, and until one can perform these acts swiftly and almost subconsciously it is much safer to shift into second speed just before a very steep hill is reached than to try to do so while actually on the hill. The shift from third to second speed is the one most often required in hill-climbing and is the most difficult to make of all the shifts. Unless it is performed almost instantly the car's speed falls off so greatly that often the engine will not pick up on second speed, and low gear has to be resorted to. One should practice this shift on the level road until it can be made instantly and without the least bungling, in order to attain the skill required to perform it when it must be done deftly in order to be effective. Until an operator can shift gears properly and has full confidence in his ability to do so, he is likely to avoid shifting when it is really required, and in severe hill-climbing, instead of dropping from high to second speed the car may be kept on high until it is slowed down sofar that the engine labors, to the serious detriment of its bearings.

LOST MOTION CAUSES NOISE

J. B. writes: When I start my car into motion or when I give the engine gas suddenly, there is a "bang" or knock in the rear end. I have examined the clutch, transmission, universal joints, pinion shaft and differential bearings for play, but can find none, but there is a little lost motion at the rear wheels. What do you think produces this noise? Can it be that it is in the differential? How can I test these parts to locate the source of trouble?

Answer: You are entirely right in looking for lost motion in the transmission line, as that is the usual cause of noise at starting, when feeding gas suddenly and on applying the brakes. Our opinion is that there is enough backlash somewhere to account for this noise. Very little play in the driving wheel axle connections is sufficient to make noticeable sound. (If you uncover the rear universal, hold its rear member from turning, keep one driving wheel stationary and turn the other by hand, you will obtain some idea of the amount of lost motion in the differential, but we believe that, if there were anything seriously wrong there, it would show up when turning corners.) Try running the car on high gear, when its rear end is jacked up, loading the transmission members by momentarily applying the brakes and opening the throttle. If someone listens carefully when you do this, a clue may be obtained as to the location of this noise.

UNRELIABLE CONTACT SOMEWHERE

B. G. S. writes: When my car is running over rough roads the ammeter needle jumps back and forth very rapidly and the lights flicker. What is the cause of this?

Answer: We suspect there is something wrong which causes an uncertain "off and on" connection between the generator and its circuit, the jolting of the car being sufficient to make and break the contact. The battery is doubtless at low charge and, when the circuit is broken, causes the lights to burn dimly, but when the generator circuit is restored its higher voltage makes the lights brighten up. There may be a loose connection at the generator or between it and the battery and you should go over the circuit carefully, tightening all terminals. Possibly there is trouble with the relay and you may well have this tested out carefully. The trouble may also be at the battery itself, due to a hanger that has become broken by the jolting of the car.

Timely Views of World Topics

"EUGENICS CAN STOP CRIME; LAWYERS CAN HELP," SAYS JUDGE

Mental deficiency is the root from which criminality springs and with its suppression crime will be prevented, Harry Olson, chief justice of the Chicago Municipal Court, declared in a recent address before the Eugenics Research Association.

JUDGE H. O. OLSON

Crime prevention, Judge Olson added, is the weeding out of defective stocks and is part of any eugenics program, and, being most readily discovered and most universally abhorred, crime control becomes the first step in such a program.

He charged that the legal profession of the United States, occupied solely with the enforcement of the law, had neglected to examine the causes of criminality and to keep abreast of modern scientific discoveries. The law, he asserted, should be modernized.

"Crime prevention, as the first step in a nation-wide eugenics program, becomes the concern of the public school teachers, the biologists, psychiatrists, the medical profession in general and intelligent lawyers and statesmen," Judge Olson said. "When that happens, laws will be enacted embodying modern scientific knowledge, the enforcement of which will give the legal profession and the courts a new and better opportunity to become more effective instruments in curbing crime than is now the case.

"As it is, the legal profession and the courts are dealing with laws obsolete from the scientific aspect. Not only is the legal profession necessarily behind scientific discoveries, but it is also behind public opinion."

Judge Olson thought that the direct route out of the legal impasse was by legislation which would express modern scientific opinion. For obtaining such legislation the education of the lawyer and the judge was likely to be very helpful, he said.

"It is hard to conceive of any legislature enacting any law until the lawyer members have shown that the facts back of the law as it is are not what they have been traditionally assumed to be," Judge Olson went on. "And unless the judges of the highest courts get a more correct understanding there will be a danger of ignorant and hostile interpretations of the law, thus defeating its purpose."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LADY BUG

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping down the front steps of his hollow stump bungalow to go adventuring, the bunny rabbit gentleman heard a gentle voice say:

"I beg your pardon"

"Eh? What's that?" exclaimed Mr. Longears, for he saw no one.

"I said I beg your pardon," went on the voice, "but could I sit down in your bungalow and rest myself a little while? I am so tired."

Uncle Wiggily twisted his two ears around sideways and twinkled his pink nose.

"This is very strange" he cried. "I hear a voice, but I see no one. I hope the Fuzzy Fox isn't playing any tricks on me."

"No, there isn't any Fox here," said the laughing voice. "And I think, if you were to put on your strongest glasses, you might see me."

So the rabbit gentleman put on his strongest glasses and looked, and what do you suppose he saw? Well, of course, you have guessed it by this time. It was a cute little Lady Bug with black spots on her red wings.

"Oh, good morning, Lady Bug!" greeted Uncle Wiggily as he saw the tiny creature. "Of course you may come in my bungalow and rest yourself. Where are you going?"

"I am not going—I am coming," whispered the Lady Bug. "I have been to the store for a drop of honey dew and I was coming home with it when I felt tired, so I flew in here to rest."

"You are very welcome," spoke Uncle Wiggily, "and I am sorry I didn't see you the first time. Sit down and make yourself at home. Nurse Jane Fuzzy has gone out shopping and you will have the bungalow all alone. I am going adventuring.

"Good luck to you!" called the Lady Bug as she flew in and sat in Uncle Wiggily's easy chair, while the bunny rabbit hopped along to see what would happen.

Now about this time along came the Woozie Wolf. From afar he saw the rabbit gentleman hopping away.

"I know what I'll do," growled the Woozie Wolf. "Now that Uncle Wiggily has gone out I'll creep into his bungalow. I'll hide there and when he comes home I'll jump out at him from behind the door and nibble his ears."

So into the bungalow crept the Woozie Wolf. But no sooner had he swaggered in than a voice said:

"Gentlemen always take off their hats when they enter a room where there is a lady!"

"My goodness!" cried the Wolf in surprise, as he snatched his hat off his head. "Who are you?" For he saw no one. He shuffled around the room on his big paws, looking to see who had spoken, but the Lady Bug hid herself in a corner of Uncle Wiggily's easy chair.

"Gurr! Gurr!" growled the Wolf.

"Gentlemen do not shuffle their feet!" went on the voice.

"Look here! Who are you?" growled the Wolf, for still he could see no one. "If you are Nurse Jane playing tricks on me, I'll nibble your ears as well as Uncle Wiggily's!" howled the Wolf.

"My goodness!" cried the Wolf.

"Gentlemen do not growl, they speak politely," said the little voice. "And I will tell you that I am not Nurse Jane."

"Say, look here! This is getting on my nerves!" howled the Wolf. "Are you a fairy trying to play tricks on me?"

"No, I am a Lady Bug," was the answer, "and I always try to act like a perfect lady. I hope I am not doing wrong when I tickle your nose, Mr. Wolf, but that is the most polite way I know of getting rid of you."

With that she flew through the air and tickled the Wolf on his nose. And when his nose was tickled he sneezed. And when he sneezed he turned a somersault and fell out of the window. Then away he ran.

"Oh, surely there was a fairy in Uncle Wiggily's bungalow!" howled the Wolf. "She talked to me but I couldn't see her, and she tickled my nose! It's a good thing I got out of there alive!"

"He didn't have strong enough glasses to see me," said the Lady Bug, telling Uncle Wiggily, afterward, what had happened.

"You were very good to drive the Wolf from my bungalow," said the rabbit gentleman, "and I thank you." Then the Lady Bug flew home with her drop of honey dew and every one was happy but the Wolf. But it served him right.

And if the goldfish doesn't try to swim around inside the milk bottle and make the sugar bowl laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Gentleman Bug.

Who's Who in the Day's News

CHARLES D. HILLES

The appointment eventually of Charles D. Hilles as chairman of the Republican National Committee is predicted by politicians at national capital. Hilles, if appointed, will succeed John T. Adams.

C. D. HILLES

Adams and President Harding do not agree on the world court question. Hilles has been in complete accord with the president's views and has had several conferences with the chief executive.

He was talked of for the chairmanship post when Will Hays stepped out to join the cabinet. He has been mentioned at various times for important posts in the Harding administration.

Charles Dewey Hilles was born in Belmont county, Ohio, June 23, 1867. He was graduated from the student academy at Oxford, Maryland, in 1887. Hilles has long been interested in the care of delinquent children. He was superintendent of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster, Ohio; superintendent of the New York Juvenile Asylum, treasurer of the New York Juvenile Asylum, and treasurer of the New York Child Labor Commission.

In 1909 Hilles was assistant secretary of the U. S. treasury. He was secretary to President Taft in 1911.

If Hilles should become chairman of the Republican National Committee he would be familiar with the duties of the office, since he held that position from 1912 to 1916.

New York city is Hilles' home.

One afternon a stranger debarked from a train at a hustling town in the west and headed up the street. Finally he met a man who looked like a native, says the North Shore Bulletin.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, "are you a resident of this town?"

"Yes, sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "I have been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?"

"I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?"

"Well," said the native, reflectively, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."

First concrete house in the world was built in 1866.

HOME FOR DOGS AND CATS OPENS

Opening Day at Bide-a-Wee Home at Altadena to Be Bench Show

Possessing a flourishing Cat Club and an active Dog Protective Association, Glendalians are right in line as sponsors of the "Southern California Bide-a-Wee Home for Dogs and Cats," to be opened at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 4, on West Mariposa avenue, Altadena.

The opening event at this unique institution will be a bench show, which, according to Mrs. M. Gertrude Knox or 435 South Central avenue, will be "'without race, color or previous condition of servitude,' without rank or pedigree, without social standing or caste, all the dogs and the cats belonging to the boys and girls of the whole country 'round are to have a chance to show themselves off. The mongrels will take their places beside the dogs of high degree and will be judged solely on their merits as there will be an open field and no favors."

Only One in West

Mrs. Knox states that there are similar institutions in Philadelphia and New York, but, so far as she knows, the Altadena home is the only one in the west.

Judges at Saturday's show will be Mrs. Guy Bates Post, for cat entries; Frank Davis and Mr. Sherwood, for dog entries. There will be prizes for the prettiest kitty, the ugliest, the largest, the smallest, the best grey, black or white. The dogs and puppies will be similarly classified.

A feature that may be probable will be the presence of "Beneva," the renowned police dog of motion picture fame, owned by Mr. Davis.

In the establishment of the home it is interesting to know that Mrs. Warren G. Harding heads the list of the contributing board. The institution will be maintained by popular subscription and the interest and support of all dog and cat lovers is solicited.

Lots of Room

A contribution of $1,000 from Mrs. Edgar Saltus, widow of the late author, made possible the purchase of the home bungalow and acreage. Ample grounds provide for runways and kennels and the bungalow provides a home for the superintendent, a former service man and a lover of animals.

In the bungalow are reception rooms and offices.

The home is under the management of a board of women, including Mrs. Guy Gates Post, president; Mrs. Rosamond Wright, first vice-president; Mrs. John Canfield, second vice-president; other vice-presidents, Mrs. T. Connell, Mrs. S. S. Hinds and Mrs. R. Crandell. Miss V. Kercheval of Sierra Madre is treasurer, and will receive all contributions.

To reach the home take the Pasadena-Lincoln avenue bus north, get off at Mariposa avenue and walk west two blocks.

Officials Sent to San Diego To See Demonstrations By Workers There

The first aid school conducted by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company here held its regular session last evening. George Egan, district plant chief, and Dru W. Nicoles, district wire chief, were sent to San Diego today by company officials to witness the first aid demonstration given by the workers at that point.

Already two lives have been saved in Los Angeles by the first aid school workers, it is reported, the work being instituted the first to this year. All employes of the company are being trained to meet emergencies, both in the plant and outside, it being found that a knowledge of what to do and how to do it saves lives and property.

Conductors, Trainmen To Ask Wage Advance

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 11.—Railroad conductors and trainmen are formulating plans for wage increases that are to be submitted to the railroads in the near future, L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, said here today. Sheppard declared the first draft of the demands of the 60,000 union conductors and 200,000 union trainmen had been formulated at the recent meeting at Chicago of the general chairmen of the two unions for the territory west of the Mississippi.

Banditry in Mexico.
Criminals of America.
Comparative News Values.
Guests at Burbank's Home.

By Gil A. Cowan

EVERYTHING serene south of the Rio Grande until yesterday, when the report arrived that bandits were holding an American for ransom in Mexico. Today the United States government is making demands on the southern republic that he be released muy pronto.

To the credit of the Obregon regime, however, banditry has been almost entirely stamped out and Mexico once more is a place for peaceable residents to conduct business and social life. There is nothing unusual in the bandits holding a man hostage. It is a most usual procedure, even in these United States of ours.

Sometimes we feel that the Mexican situation was painted worse than what it really was, the revolutions being more or less comic opera affairs and the bandits comparing favorably with strikers in this country, except that Mexicans never had a day's pay ahead and had to fight for a living when they quit work.

And, from a moral and criminal standpoint, we cannot accuse Mexico of being any worse than this highly civilized and intellectual land of the free, where liberty means licetiousness.

A very scholarly article on the criminal situation was published in McClure's of current issue. Comparisons between the United States and foreign nations put us to shame in the matter of homicides, suicides, robberies and the like. The question is seriously asked, "Are we a nation of criminals?" It must seem so if Americans get publicity in foreign countries similar to that given Mexico in the United States.

In the same magazine the tale of Paris Apaches' actions leads one to believe that much of the crime in other countries is hidden from the public, while in this country it is a matter of record. Perhaps it would be a good idea if crime news was given less space and such events as the National Education Association meeting "played up."

On similar lines the Christian Science Monitor of July 6 made a comparison of news values which is interesting:

"A nation-wide survey of metropolitan American newspapers yesterday reveals with startling clearness the comparative importance which editors of the United States attach to news of a prize fight in Montana and a meeting of world educators in San Francisco, where the National Education Association and the World Conference on Education have been in session for some days, discussing matters of significance to every man, woman and child in the United States.

"The survey shows that in New York City yesterday, in eight newspapers 1,425¾ inches of space, or about seventy columns, were devoted to the Dempsey-Gibbons prize fight in Shelby, Mont., while the San Francisco conferences, where such subjects as 'A World University,' 'Need for a World History Textbook' and school needs in various parts of the world were being discussed, received only ninety-three and one-half inches, or about three and one-third columns."

Here is some news that almost was crowded out of the paper, but we saved it for readers of Comment column, the dispatch coming from Santa Rosa, Calif., via the International News Service leased wire:

"Visitors from all over the world are keeping the welcome mat warm this summer at the home of Luther Burbank, plant wizard. Never before in the long history of the famous horticulturist has such a list of international callers inscribed their names on his big guest book as has been the case this season.

"Today twenty-five educators from China, Japan and India visited Burbank. They came to California to attend the world educational conference and were headed by Dr. P. W. Kuo, president of Shanghai University.

"They were personally shown through the gardens by Burbank, who explained his latest creations of the plant world. The visitors from Japan and India were particularly interested because of the large number of plant creations Burbank has produced for growth in their lands.

"Guests from Japan, Belgium, South Africa and Australia have appointments to call on Burbank during the next two weeks."

Auto Tourists From All States Come Here

note of dissatisfaction sounded by Alex Nibley, who stayed at home, for he asked,

"Why didn't you sell President Harding a lot in Rossmoyne when you had the opportunity in Yellowstone?"

And the only reply, other than a chuckle, that Lon J. could produce was that the president is needed in Washington for the rest of his term and had he a homesite in Glendale he would stop here for all time on August 3.

Rum Running Growing Less, Officers Claim

NEW YORK, July 12.—New York is losing its thirst, according to Captain E. Q. Merritt, chief enforcement officer, and Captain B. L. Reed, in charge of the U. S. coast guard, patrolling the New York and New Jersey coasts for rum-running craft.

EAGLE ROCK

IMPROVEMENT OF BOULEVARD, PLAN

Association Formed to Boost Scheme for Extension of York Highway

The York Boulevard Improvement association was formed Monday night, July 9, at a meeting of residents and property owners held in the Occidental United Presbyterian church.

About 100 people were present and an animated discussion of the proposed extension and development of this highway was had.

Mr. Dorlan was elected temporary president and Mrs. J. G. James tentative secretary. Another meeting of the association will be announced later, when permanent officers will be elected and a platform of activities drawn up.

Coming Events

The open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce has been postponed until the night of July 17, when, in the auditorium of the City Hall on East Colorado boulevard, it is hoped a large number of local residents will gather for an interchange of civic ideas.

The night of Tuesday, July 17, is also set for the next meeting of the Improvement association, with the Central school as headquarters. It is possible that, due to the conflict of these two meetings, one of them may be postponed, in which case it will probably be the Improvement association, as the open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Donnell Montgomery feels, should not be postponed again.

President O. J. Root of the Chamber of Commerce is in the east with his family on a six months' trip, looking after his interests there.

Sergeant J. D. Cornwall and family have returned to Eagle Rock after their motor trip to San Francisco and Mono Lake, and the sergeant is once more in charge of the local police department.

Social and Personal

Mrs. C. A. McLeod, of 136 Eddy avenue, took the part of a nurse in a motion picture produced in Hollywood recently. The title of the film is "Why Do We Live?" and it is said to point a good moral.

Mrs. Caroline Ball and daughter, Mary Ellen of 221 East Adams avenue, are on a tour of the northern part of the state. They left over the Coast Route and will visit all the Missions, National park, Sequoia park, Palo Alto, San Francisco, Berkeley, Stockton, Yosemite valley and other points, probably returning to Glendale via the Ridge Route.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Morgan Isaac of 248 South Douglas avenue are on a tour of the northern part of the state, camping out just where they happen to find a spot that appeals to them, and enjoying a vacation they have long wanted to take.

Mrs. J. P. Tracy of West Lawrence avenue has left on an eastern trip. While gone she will visit in Chicago, Detroit, New York and other points, returning via the Canadian Pacific to visit her former home in Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shaffer from Shattuck, Okla., with Mrs. Shaffer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ives, from Bloomington, Ill., have arrived in Eagle Rock by motor, on their first trip to California, and are living at 5324 Loy Lane. They are old-time friends of Mrs. W. L. Miller of 125 Rowland avenue.

BARGAIN DAY AT PLUMBING STORE

New Firm Will Celebrate Opening by Offering Big Inducements

To announce their opening at 610-12 South Brand boulevard, the Valley Plumbing Supply Company are offering many bargain buys in the way of high-grade plumbing fixtures and trimmings, states A. L. Salzman, proprietor of the store.

One of the most attractive of these offerings is a six-fixture set at $140, comprising a porcelain enameled bathtub, low vitreous china toilet, wide apron wall lavatory, sink, laundry tray and combination water heater, all of A-grade materials throughout, complete to rough plumbing.

Another remarkable buy is a complete portable shower set, with ring and canvas screen, at $9.

Prices Are Slashed

"And there are many other bargains to be found in our store," says Mr. Salzman. "We have things priced to save the public money and we want them to give us a chance to prove it. Our stock is large and varied, but if we don't happen to have just what a customer wants we will get it.

"We aim to offer a real line of plumbing supplies, to meet all needs from bungalows to apartments. We carry the very best and latest grades of materials obtainable, and at prices calculated to make friends."

The Valley Plumbing Supply Company has a fine double store at the above address, in a building just completed. Everything is spick and span, from the roof down and from the sidewalk in, with a large line of new, attractive goods to match.
